

Farmers' Market fun

CORRECTIVE NOTICE BY GOODYEAR CANADA INC.

The Director of Investigation and Research (Competition Bureau, Industry Canada) has informed us that savings claims published by Goodyear from January to May 1994 in various newspapers across Canada for the promotion of some of its replacement passenger tires have raised questions under the misleading advertising, sections 52(1)(a) and 52(1)(d) of the Competition Act.

The advertisements contained savings claims such as: "25% off"; "four tires for the price of three"; "the second at half price" which were not based on the ordinary selling prices of these tires in all cases.

Goodyear has resolved this situation by ensuring that all current and future savings claims published by Goodyear are based on the regular price at which the product is sold in the relevant market area. We have also established an internal multi-tier advertising review system to support this commitment.
