Chance to skate on the street legally

A fundraiser to help fight crime across the region will be held in Burlington next month.

The Great Halton Crime Stoppers R.A.C.E (Race Against Crime Everywhere) will be held Sunday, Sept. 29.

Proceeds will support Crime Stoppers of Halton, a reward program where anonymous callers reveal crime-related information that leads to convictions.

Participants will be able to choose either a 5 or 10-km course that will start and finish at Burlington City Hall. The course is known to runners who participate in the annual Moon in June race organized by the Burlington Art Centre.

Unique to the race, sponsored by the Royal Bank Financial Group, will be the in-line roller blade option, said Sgt. Rod Cliffe, head of Crime Stoppers of Halton.

"Finally, a chance for roller enthusiasts to take to the streets legally," he said.

Prizes will include vouchers for Nike running shoes in two categories of male and female runners and a pair of Bauer F3RC in-line skates for the roller participant with the greatest value of pledges.

The entry fee is $10 for either the run or the in-line skate. If pledges of $20 or more are collected, the entry fee will be waived. Registration can be done on race day from 8:30-9:30 a.m. or in advance by mail.

For information, registration forms or pledge sheets, call Scott Schlotzhauer at 878-1848.
