Underhill almost had a monopoly

The inaugural Halton Valley Summer Classic horse show had many winners among its 30 hunter and jumper divisions and nearly 500 horse-rider pairings, but the two major events were nearly swept by one person — Ontario's Beth Underhill on board her black gelding Monopoly.

A two-and-a-half second advantage on a double clear round by United States Olympic silver medalist Leslie Burr-Howard gave her the win and the $32,000 share of the $100,000 Saturday Grand Prix event, while Underhill had to settle for second and $22,000.

But on Sunday, in the show jumping finale, Underhill and Monopoly dominated with the fastest double-clear round, beating out John Pearce on Spanish Eyes by 1.2 seconds to win a further $16,000, the first place purse in the $50,000 event.

Weekend Grand Prix show jumping at the brand-new Hendervale Equestrian Centre in rural Milton attracted nearly 10,000 spectators, who were treated to timed jump-offs among seven riders of 19 starters in the Saturday Halton Valley Grand Prix and among eight riders of 23 starters on Sunday. The multinational field of competitors included top riders from Canada and the U.S. and Australian Olympic equestrian Vicki Roycroft.

For Roycroft, her first visit to Canada was a profitable one with $16,300 in winnings from placing in three competitions. That result also netted her the Ontario Jockey Club award for top thoroughbred at the show and a custom portrait of her horse by Milton artist Debbie Goldring.

The new $3 million Hendervale facility is designed to be a permanent equestrian show and training ground for up and coming riders and horses throughout Eastern Canada. Hendervale is planning to host three major Grand Prix horse shows in 1997.

pete at the World Cup finals this fall in Cairns, Australia. This opportunity would prove to be a good preview for Cseff's long-term plans.

"I'm hoping to compete on the World Cup Series someday, possibly as early as two years from now. First however, I think I'd like to spend a season or two down south on a U.S. circuit.

"Depending on my sponsorship situation, I'll probably be heading to the States next year," he said.

previously undefeated Razzle Dazzle Tom with the convincing mile.

A daughter of Balanced Image out of the Super Bowl mare Eclair Hanover, Elegance was a $53,000 yearling purchase at the Canadian Classic sale last fall. In four lifetime starts, she has recorded two wins and $61,080 purse earnings to date.

Starting this championship match from post five, Elegance shot into an immediate lead, but was sternly challenged on the outside by Razzle Dazzle Tom (Kelly Sheppard) through a brisk opening quarter-mile of :27.4. After that test, Elegance took control of the race, hitting the half-mile station with a length and three-quarters to spare in :57.1.

From that point on, the decision was well in hand. Elegance was two lengths in front at the 1:27.1 three-quarter mile pole and rolled to her first win on the Sires Stakes circuit by six lengths.
