

Lesley Goertzen is once again staging a fashion extravaganza in aid of a worthy cause.

Grab your tickets early for popular fashion fundraiser

Those planning to attend the Green Ginger fashion show for breast cancer research had better get their tickets early.

Designer clothing boutique owner and event organizer Lesley Goertzen said people started reserving tickets for the Sunday, Oct. 6 show in March.

"That's exciting when people do that," said Ms Goertzen, who annually organizes the major fundraiser to battle breast cancer.

The dinner event at Halton Hills Place will feature singer Olulani Otebe of Hawaii and her dance group, sponsored by the Waltzing Weasel. The group will perform a 20-minute show after dinner, prior to the start of the popular, all-Canadian designer fashion show.

Besides the works of Linda Lundstrom, the fashions will include lingerie, and one-of-a-kind bridal gowns by Toronto designer Paul Cornish. Ms Lundstrom, herself, will be on hand, and clothing will be modelled by local volunteers.

A sell-out crowd of 450 people is expected to attend the event, which will also feature door prizes, President's Choice hors d'oeuvres donated by Loblaw's, and live music during dinner.

Only tickets for mezzanine seats are left for sale at a cost of $35 each, Ms Goertzen said. Doors open at 6 p.m.

Tickets can be purchased at Green Ginger (Main and Martin Street.).
