Training techniques

There was plenty of activity at Saturday's Fire Prevention open house. (At left) Future firefighter Lindsey McMullen, 7, gets a helping hand from co-op firefighter Chris Penson and the "Halton Hydrant" as another youngster checks out the unusual hydrant. (Above) A firefighter uses a hand hydraulic spreader to get at the door pillar during an auto extrication demonstration while (at right) his peers use the jaws of life to open the car door, then cut and remove the roof.
