

Good carpet makes a big difference

A good carpet can add an air of elegance or cozy warmth to any room in your home. What should you look for when you set out to buy a new one? Here are some pointers. Keep the floor treatment simple to make redecorating easier, or if there's a chance you might decide to use the room for something else. A more neutral decor also appeals to prospective home buyers. Give colour a lot of thought. That great-looking swatch in the showroom could overpower your living room. Bring samples home, or have them delivered, and lay them out on the floor around the room. How does the light affect them as the day goes on?
