

Milton Arthritis Society organizers are preparing for another fund-raising campaign, starting Sept. 10. At an organizational meeting last week Campaign Chairman Audrea Lear-Costigan handed out kits and posters to Zone Chirmen Marjorie Powys and Alex McNiven (seated); Jack Jamieson and Irene Chesla (standing). Holding the poster is Mauri Vallee, Director of Field Services for The Arthritis Society, who spoke at the meeting.

Arthritis '84 goal set

Milton's branch of the Arthritis Society will wage a public campaign for funds starting Monday, Sept. 10 and this year's target is $8,300. Campaign Chairman Audrea Lear-Costigan told a meeting of zone chairmen and canvassers Wednesday.

Last fall the group had a goal of $7,000 and managed to collect a record $8,800, she reported. "We hope our campaign is just as successful this year," Mrs. Lear-Costigan said.

Urban Milton has been sectioned into five zones and the zone chairmen this year will be Alex McNiven, Irene Chesla, Jack Jamieson and Marjorie Powys, with one more chairman to be named this week. Canvasser kits, posters and donation jars will all be in place by the campaign kick-off on Sept. 10, she said.

Mauri Vallee, Director of Field Services for The Arthritis Society, attended the meeting to show the new film Frontiers in Research which shows where much of the association's money goes.

Mr. Vallee said 30,000 children under the age of 12 (roughly equivalent to the population of Milton) are suffering with arthritis across Canada.

Mrs. Lear-Costigan gave a report on the annual regional meeting held recently in Cambridge, where 1983 revenue was reported as $5.695 million. The Ontario division's 1984 budget is $5.882 million.

"Much progress has been made in the treatment of arthritis over the past 10 years and researchers are on the threshold of finding the keys that will bring arthritis under control," she predicted.

In Canada it is our number-one chronic disease. Arthritis costs over $1 million a year in daily medication alone, she said.

"People with arthritis lose more than $1 billion a year in lost wages, which costs the federal government $150 million in tax revenues," she said.

The 1984 Milton Branch executive was announced at Wednesday's meeting. President is Barny Henderson, medical advisor Dr. S. Schachter, campaign chairman Audrea Lear-Costigan, treasurer Ron Clarke and public information director Jim Powers.

Consumer show planned

Ron Clarke, President of the Milton Chamber of Commerce has announced plans for a Consumer Show by the Chamber, to be held May 23, 24 and 25, 1985 at Thompson Rd. Arena. The event will showcase Milton's business community and give area residents the opportunity to view, first-hand, the wide range of goods and services available to them in their community. At the same time, it is expected that new relationships between area businesses can be established.

The project is being organized by a Chamber committee headed by local businessman Tom Richardson of Richardson Chev-Olds. Other committee members are Tom Chudleigh, Charles Copeland, Robert Lawrence and Doug Shenton. Various sub-committees will include a cross-section of business and community Miltonians.

Returning after an absence of over a decade, the showcase idea is being enthusiastically received by the business community, and government.

Further details will be made available in the coming months.

Vandels strike

A vandalism spree in a Milton neighbourhood has left local police not only baffled but frustrated with local residents.

A trail of debris and damage was left in the cul-de-sac area of Kingsway Place late Thursday night where it is believed one or possibly two people wrecked havoc.

Halton Regional Police received reports of seven related incidents where gas caps were removed from homeowners' cars, radio antennas were bent or snapped off, licence plates were bent and unlocked cars were searched.

Lawn chairs were also scattered in several backyards.

"How come nobody called us?" questioned Staff Sergeant Dave Eadie.

"There was too much vandalism going on. Somebody had to see it and they don't bother calling us," he said.

Police are continuing their investigation.
