

Public input sought on transportation

Metrolinx is inviting residents to join in its open discussion about its plan to rebuild transportation in the Greater Toronto and Hamilton areas.

The Province's regional transportation agency for the areas will host a number of public roundtable meetings across Ontario called the 'Big Conversation' to talk about The Big Move, Metrolinx's plan to tackle gridlock and improve transportation access, integration and efficiency.

Meetings in Halton will be held tonight at the Halton Regional Centre in Oakville from 6 to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 26 at the Gellert Community Centre in Georgetown from 2 to 4 p.m.

Residents are invited to hear about the first phase of projects that are well underway with $16 billion already invested and $34 billion of local and regional transit projects proposed for the next phase of development that includes 714 km of rapid transit enhancements.

Metrolinx officials say it's an opportunity to learn about and discuss current and future transportation projects.
