

Community Award recipients and nominees announced

Annual awards gala set for April 12 at Granite Ridge

And the winners — and nominees — are... The Milton Chamber of Commerce has announced its recipients and nominees for its annual Community Awards, which will be celebrated next month.

Described as the very definition of a tireless volunteer by her nominator, Jean Woods' lifetime of community spirit has earned her this year's Lifetime Achievement Award.

A longtime resident of Campbellville, Woods has served with the Nassagaweya Community Consultation Committee for about 20 years, and has been a supporter of the library, Allendale, Debra's Home and Milton District Hospital — to name but a few recipients of her giving nature.

She's also helped out as a Beaver Leader and as a volunteer at Martin Street School.

An equally impressive volunteer resumé is enjoyed by Francois and Barb Fullum, who'll collectively accept the 2013 Citizen of the Year award.

Strong advocates of the arts, the couple are long-time volunteers of both the Milton Centre for the Arts and the Milton Music Teachers Association.

They've also lent their time and energy to such community events as the Downtown Street Festival, the Strawberry Festival and the Cruisin' on the Hot Summer's Night classic car show.

A host of groups and causes have Carlanna Sdao to thank for her long-time volunteer efforts, which in turn has earned her this year's Joyce Hagevik Volunteer of the Year award.

Among them are the Tim Hortons Children's Foundation, the Good Neighbour's Community Day, the Darling Home for Kids and Arts Milton. Sdao is also a staunch supporter of many school initiatives, like the breakfast clubs and co-op programs.
