Out for a stroll

High Stakes Farm held its annual Mother's Day open house, giving visitors a chance at a behind-the-scenes look at stable life on a working horse farm. Here, farm owner Joanne Colville walks Mojo in the Morning, as her young foal Princess — just over a month old and still getting use to the outdoors and her footing — frolics alongside. For another photo of the event, see page 15. Graham Paine / Canadian Champion (Follow on Twitter @halton_photog)

Littering and dumping persists on rural roads

By Julia Le
CANADIAN CHAMPION STAFF

Litter and illegal dumping continues to be a problem in Milton's rural areas. Most recently, potted soil was dumped along a 100-metre stretch of No. 28 Sideroad, which upset local residents — especially since just three days before the incident, the Town of Milton had put up two No Dumping signs along the road, which displays the maximum fine of $5,000 a person has to pay if caught.

Stan Kalapaca said he discovered the mess while in search of his morning paper Saturday, May 4 around 7 a.m. He called local Ward 3 Town Coun-

Farmers' market opens

Downtown Main Street will no doubt be a popular spot Saturday morning, as the annual Milton Farmers' Market is set to begin for another season.

Running from May 18 to October 12 (excluding June 1 for the Milton Downtown Street Festival), the Saturday morning market has been offering fresh produce from local farmers for the past 41 years.

The market also includes a number of other food vendors, as well as the Chamber Scholarship Café, home of the popular bacon-on-a-bun.

The market runs from 7 a.m. to noon each Saturday.
