

Graham Irish Dancers headed to Anaheim

The Graham Irish Dancers are preparing for the North American Irish Dance Championships that will be held the first week of July in Anaheim, California. The dancers qualified to participate in this event due to their strong results at the Eastern Canadian Irish Dance Championships last November. There will be 10 dancers participating in solo events in a number of age categories. Throughout the winter, the Graham Irish Dancers have been busy practising to perfect their routines as well as working to develop the stamina required to compete at this level, said Sheila Graham, who runs the dance school. Five of the dancers competed in the World Irish Dance Championships in April in Boston, where Scott Graham brought home a medal. All of the dancers in the Graham School of Irish Dance, which has been established in Milton, Mississauga and Hamilton for more than 25 years, performed throughout the GTA during March to help celebrate St. Patrick's Day. They were welcomed in seniors' residences, restaurants and pubs, as well as community gatherings. For most dancers, this is their favourite time of the year as they have multiple opportunities to share their love of dance in their communities.

Dancers from the Graham Irish Dancers are preparing for the North American Irish Dance Championships in July in Anaheim, California. Above are eight of the 10 dancers, who qualified. From left, Paige Whyte-Fagundes, Robin Kim, Caitlyn Clancy-Ortiz, Scott Graham, Catherine Hoare, Celina Graham, Emma Marquis and Rachel Hoare. Absent were Alexandra Graham and Jenn Murphy. Inset, Paige Whyte-Fagundes does a leap in rehearsal. Graham Paine / Canadian Champion (follow on twitter @halton_photog)
