With the start of summer vacation season, Canadians are entering one of the busiest times of the year on Canada's highways.

For many families, it's a frantic scramble to get the car packed and get to their destination as quickly as possible. With thoughts focused on the campground and the beach, it's easy to overlook the most important part of the journey – getting there safely.

To promote vehicle safety and safe driving techniques, the Toyota Canada Foundation and the Traffic Injury Research Foundation (TIRF) have teamed up to create Brain on Board.

It's a fast, convenient way to refresh your memory on all the key safety messages and tips you should be aware of prior to hitting the road.

All you have to do is visit www.brainonboard.ca and at your fingertips is a range of easy-to-use tools and information to make you a safer driver.

The Brain on Board website includes plain-language descriptions of active and passive safety features, driver assistance technology, and safety technology in development.

In addition, there's essential information about speeding, distracted driving, fatigue and drowsiness, and drinking and driving. There's even a section on common myths and misconceptions about safety features and driving behaviour.

The Toyota Canada Foundation is a national not-for-profit, private charitable foundation, with a long-standing commitment to the Environment, Education and Safety.

The Foundation supports charitable and non-profit organizations dedicated to good work in these areas.
