

Hyundai helping kids play hockey

The puck dropped on October 1 for Hyundai Hockey Helpers Month, a nation-wide, grass-roots campaign to help deserving kids play organized hockey, with fundraising activities at Hyundai dealerships and online at www.HyundaiHockey.ca.

This year, thanks to its partnership with KidSport Canada, Hyundai Hockey Helpers now includes a public component where Canadians can set-up their own fundraising initiatives through the "Hyundai 1000 Puck Challenge".

Hyundai Hockey Helpers was launched in 2012 with KidSport, a not-for-profit organization that provides financial assistance to help deserving families pay for registration fees and equipment.

Last year, Hyundai Hockey Helpers provided grants to 1,879 kids.

This year, October marks Hyundai Hockey Helpers Month in Canada where participating Hyundai dealers across the country actively conduct fundraising programs to help more kids in their region get in the game. Hyundai Hockey Helpers Ambassador and Montreal Canadiens defenseman PK Subban will issue a challenge through a new TV and on-line commercial asking Canadians to take the "Hyundai 1000 Puck Challenge".

Hosted at www.HyundaiHockey.ca, the challenge encourages Canadians to set-up their own fundraising websites, collect donations to help deserving kids play hockey, and access a 1,000 puck shooting exercise designed by Subban.
