NEWS

Sheep farm celebrates 126th anniversary

Residents are invited to an anniversary party on Saturday at the Duff Sheep Farm in rural Milton.

The Duff family is welcoming people from Nassagaweya and the surrounding communities to celebrate the 126th anniversary of its barn. Festivities will include barn tours, hayrides and a chance to see the barn animals, including 50 sheep, 75 lambs, two llamas and a donkey.

At 2:30 p.m., there will be a presentation by the Concerned Residents Coalition about the Hidden Quarry proposal — a highly controversial project that, if approved, could see an operational quarry at Hwy 7 and Sixth Line.

"I feel strongly that the risks inherent in a mining operation for both our community and our agricultural heritage are serious issues. This gathering will give others involved in agriculture and the neighbourhood generally a chance to address the issue," said event host Glen Duff.

Farmers, farm suppliers, farm association representatives and politicians from all levels of government are invited.

The party takes place from 2 to 4 p.m. at 14267 Fourth Line Nassagaweya, south of Rockwood. RSVP to 519-856-9935 or at glen.duff@hotmail.com.

For more information about the proposed Hidden Quarry, please contact Linda Sword at lsword@xplornet.ca or at 519-853-1896.
