Milton siblings hurt in Mt. Nemo fall

Two Milton siblings were transported to hospital with minor injuries after falling between 20 and 25 metres at Burlington's Mount Nemo Conservation Area last Wednesday (July 22). A bystander called police at approximately 2:40 p.m. after finding the two people conscious and breathing in a crevice at the park, near Guelph Line and Britannia Road. Halton police said the victims were a 20-year-old male, who had suffered apparent head injuries, and his 16-year-old sister. Police said the two were taking a photograph when they got too close to the edge of a drop-off and tumbled into a crevice below. Acting Burlington Fire Platoon Chief Phil Barry said emergency crews performed a high-angle rope rescue to lift both parties to safety using a bucket-style backboard. The pair was taken to a local hospital with minor injuries.
