Beating the heat

Beaches across Halton Region — including Kelso in Milton — were popular destinations this week as temperatures soared to more than 30 degrees. Kelso Beach was deemed safe for swimming by Conservation Halton late last week, after being unsafe for about two weeks. Water levels, however, are quite low due to ongoing maintenance. Above, Alexandra Chomenchuk tries out her boogie board. Inset, first-year lifeguard Emily Marshall keeps an eye on the water.
