modal terminal as the biggest issues facing his community. He said, "Milton, being the fastest-growing town in Canada for many years, has lagged behind in infrastructure funding and investment from the federal government commensurate to that growth.

"The Liberal Party has announced the biggest investment in Canadian history for transit, social and green infrastructure ($125 billion over next 10 years) that will help municipalities like Milton, said Rizvee. Liberal Leader Justin Trudeau's honest and transparent approach, noted Rizvee, along with his belief in grassroots-level politics makes him the best choice for the next prime minister.

"The Liberal Party also has the best team and the best plan to bring real change in Ottawa," added Rizvee, who currently sits on the Leadership Committee of Campaign Cabinet for the hospital expansion project, as well as the board of directors for the Milton District Hospital Foundation. Committed to focusing on job creation, building infrastructure and forging strong inter-governmental relations if elected, Rizvee feels he's the right person to represent Milton at the federal level.

"I know Milton's issues as I've experienced them first-hand living and working in this town for over a decade with my family and amongst my neighbours — my extended family. I am ready to put Milton first and be the voice of Milton in Ottawa," he said. "Yes, I am ready for the job, as the Conservative attack ads and campaign think of leadership, but I am ready to create many of them like

I have done for years in this town. "That's what I believe leadership is about, and that's the role I am ready to take on as Milton's MP in Ottawa, with the community's support."

about priorities and promises. "While the Liberal Party has made a lot of promises, billions of dollars in new spending, they have provided no plan detailing how they are going to pay for it," she said. Justin will have no choice but to raise taxes, run long-term deficits, or like previous Liberal governments, dramatically slash transfer payments to provinces resulting in immediate, negative impacts on our health and educational services. Canadians understand budgets don't balance themselves. Canadians understand that we must live within our means. Should they not expect the same from the government they choose to elect? Now more than ever we must continue with our low tax plan, and not take unnecessary risks with the inexperienced leadership. "After seven years, you know what I stand for, and I assure you I will remain focused on the priorities that matter to you and our community; lower taxes, better jobs, improved infrastructure and support for hardworking families and seniors."
