

Get active in the fight against cancer at Country Heritage Park

Family Snow Day, eh! promises fun for everyone

Canadian Cancer Society
Société canadienne du cancer

Bundle up and enjoy a fun-filled day of family activities in support of the Canadian Cancer Society.

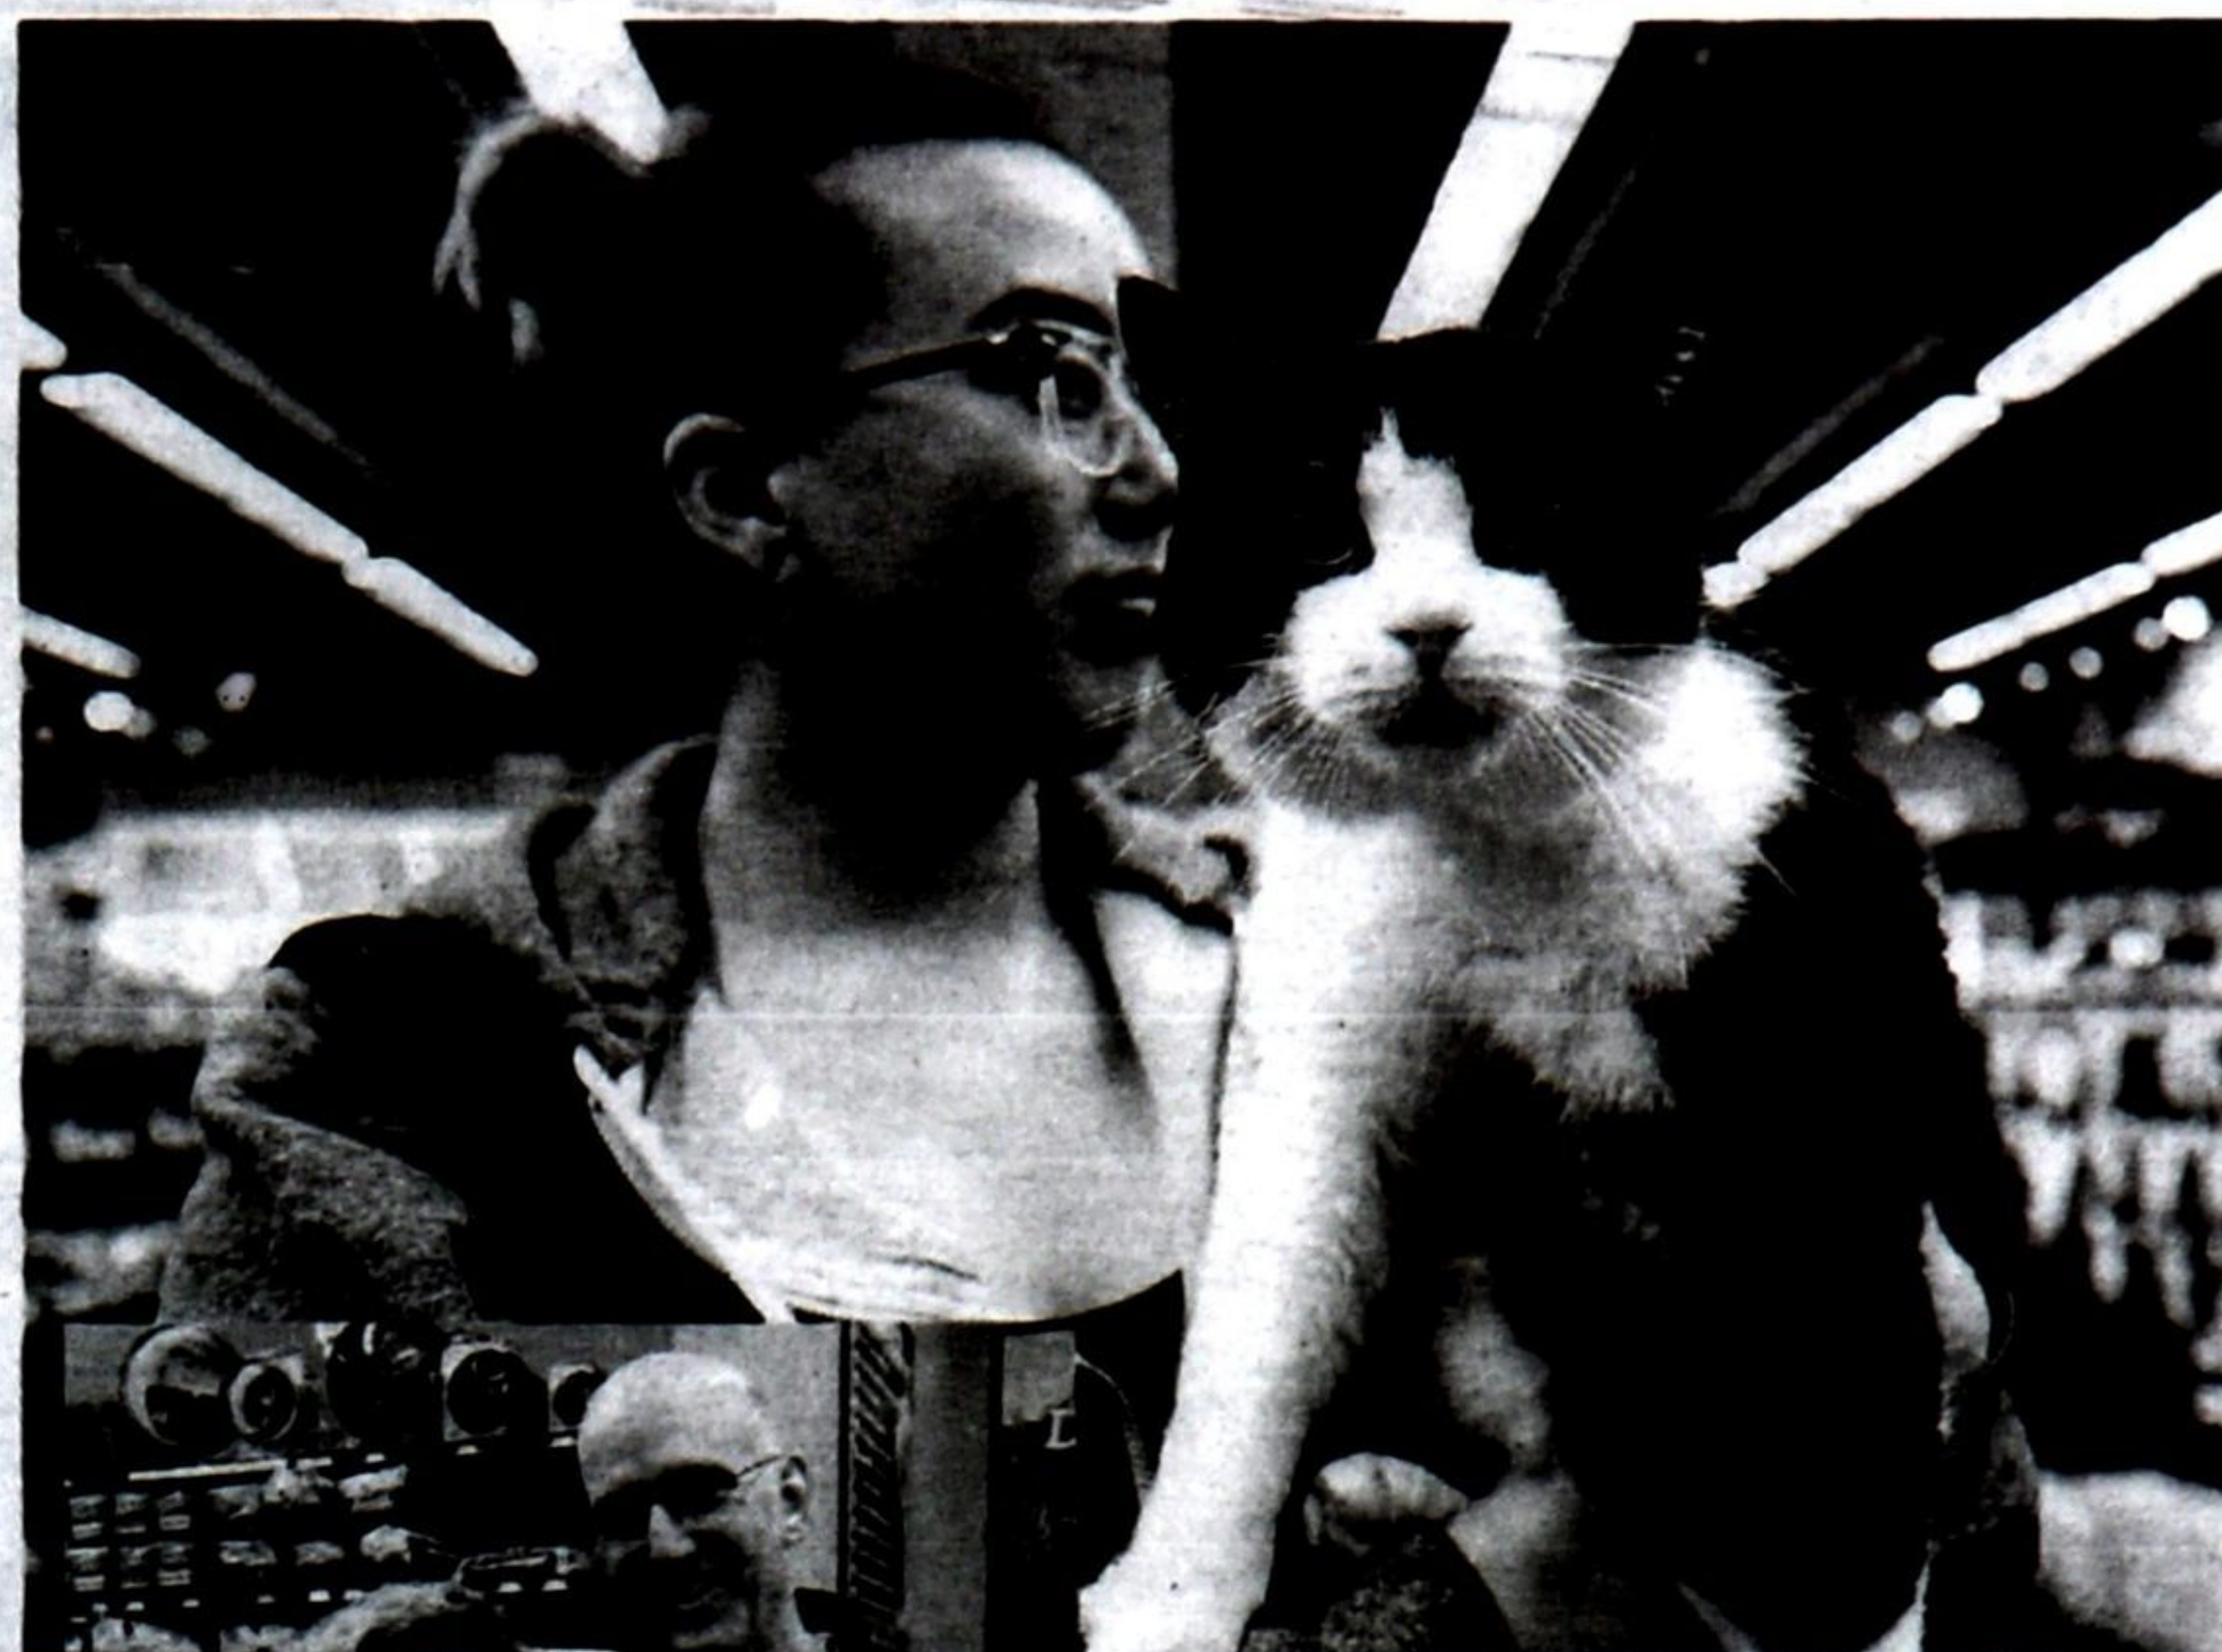

The Halton Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society invites Miltonians to Country Heritage Park (8560 Tremaine Rd.) for its new fundraising event Family Snow Day, eh! on Sunday, February 21.

Milton's Spokes N' Slopes will be on hand to outfit attendees with snowshoes and cross-country skis, while Burton's Riglet will man a snowboard park for children. There will be hiking and live entertainment by Nicole Ravy, followed by snacks and refreshments.

Family Snow Day, eh! will help support life-saving cancer research and those living with the disease. Proceeds from the event will be earmarked for the Canadian Cancer Society's Snowball Fund.

For more information or to register, visit www.familysnowday.ca.
