Milton driver sentenced in crash that killed teens

By Julie Slack
CANADIAN CHAMPION STAFF

The only adult involved in a motor vehicle collision that killed two Milton Grade 12 students received a conditional discharge in Milton court Tuesday morning.

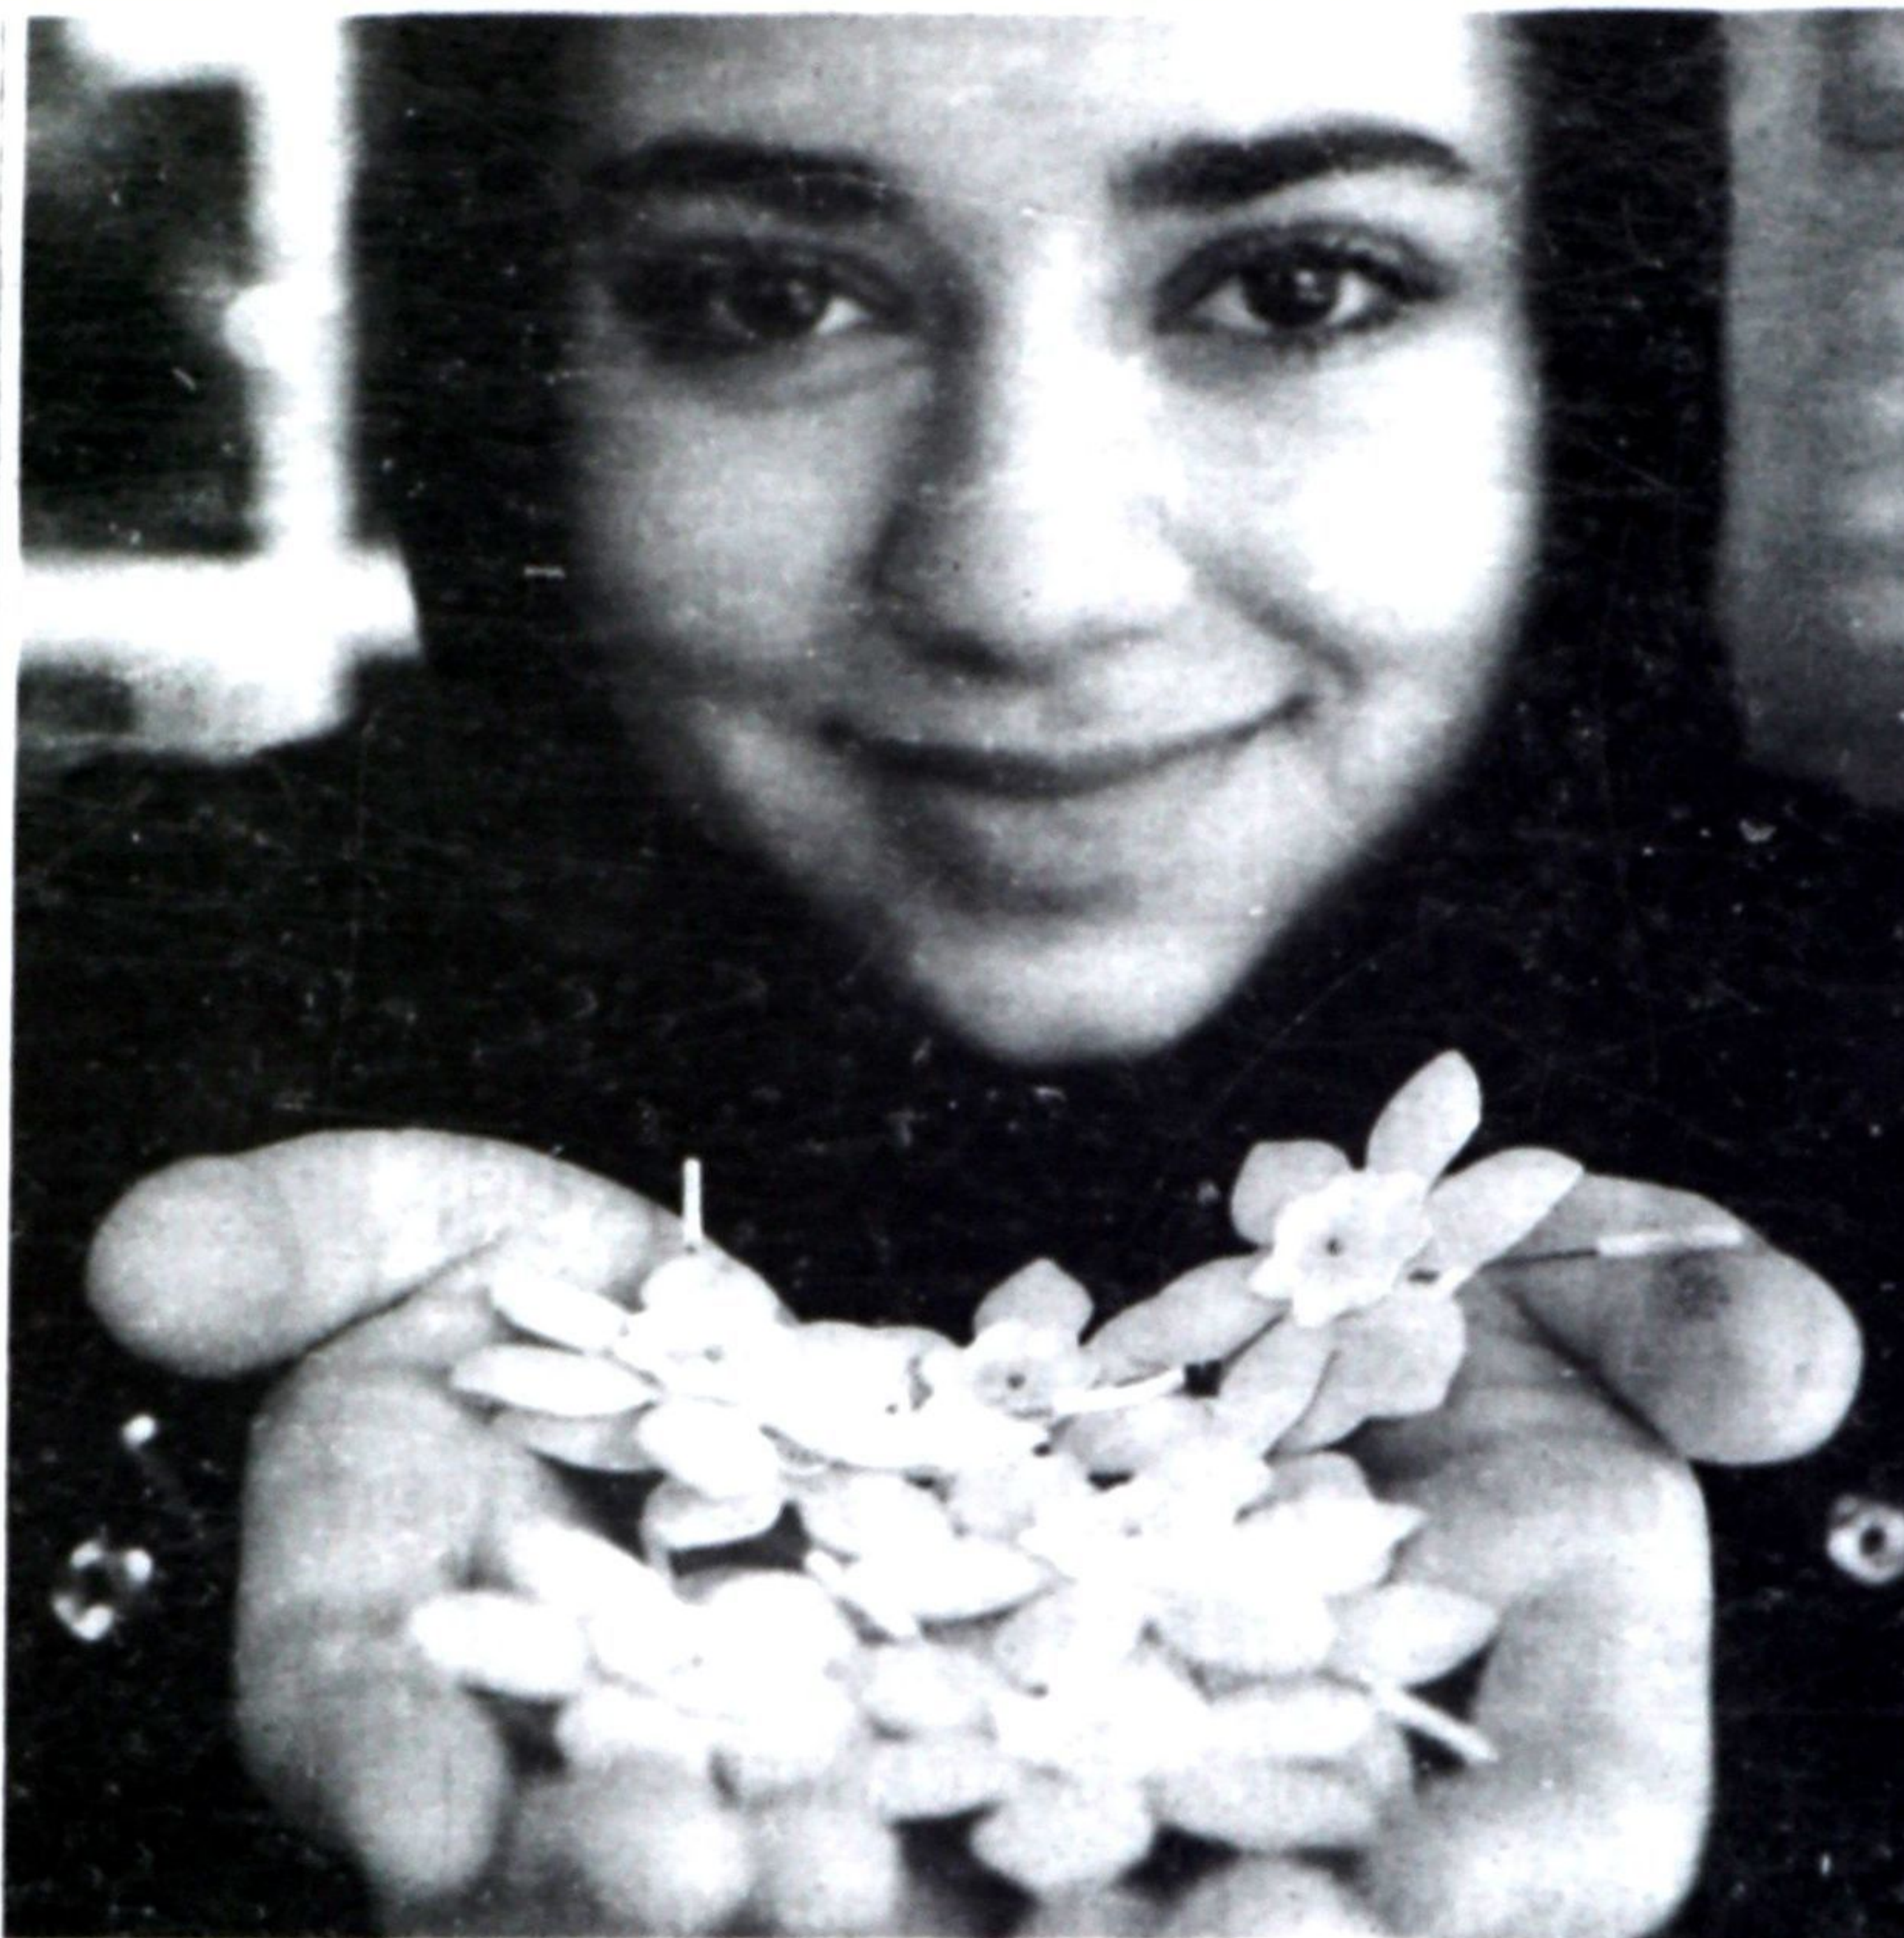

Brian Lund, 18, was also given a six-month curfew of 11 p.m., as part of probation conditions handed down by Justice David Harris.

Lund's defence lawyer Ken Byers had asked for a discharge. Assistant Crown Attorney Arish Khoorshed had sought four months in jail and a conditional sentence.

Lund, whose parents didn't attend court, showed no reaction to the sentencing and agreed to all the terms, including a two-year licence suspension. He also must perform 75 hours of community service and serve two years probation.

In February, Lund had pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving, and by doing so, he was not required to admit that his driving caused the deaths of his friends.

It's the same charge to which three other Milton teens, who cannot be named under the Youth Criminal Justice Act, pleaded guilty. They all received the same sentence last year.
