

beyond? Opportunities for career advancement will be abundant over the next decade as librarians reach the age of retirement and leave the work force. Come to this session to learn how to plan your career to take full advantage of future opportunities.

Convenor: Jim Brett, University of Guelph.

COLLECTIONS,
PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

511 OSLA MTCC 104A

8:45 am-10:00 am

FROM POTTER TO PULLMAN AND BEYOND

Julie Glazier, Teacher librarian, Earl Grey Senior School, Toronto District School Board

Discover exciting new fiction to challenge and stimulate your adolescent readers. A detailed bibliography also highlights titles for struggling readers.

Convenor: Sheila Jankowski, Goderich Collegiate.

512 OSLA CP Kingsway

8:45 am-10:00 am

PLAGIARISM OR ACADEMIC HONESTY:
WHAT CAN WE DO?

Sya Van Geest, OSLA President, retired teacher librarian.

Plagiarism has always been a concern with student research, compounded today by the ease of electronic theft and misrepresentation. Develop practical strategies to promote academic honesty, including process evaluation, rubrics, end of unit tests and reflections designed to make research a thinking process, not a copying exercise.

Convenor: Susannah D. Ketchum.

513 OLITA CP Simcoe

8:45 am-10:00 am

JSTOR

Carol MacAdam, Associate Director for Library Relations, JSTOR.

Not only does JSTOR contain a collection of arts and science journals in 15 disciplines but now a general science collection and an ecology and botany collection have been added to the offerings available to participants. Find out where JSTOR stands now, what the near future holds for JSTOR participants, what long-term plans are arising and how Canadian libraries participate in JSTOR.

Convenor: Dr. Mohamed Taher, Information Scientist.

514 OSLA MTCC 205D

8:45 am-10:00 am

INFORMATION STUDIES AND COLLABORATION

Julia Beck, Teacher librarian, Toronto French School.

Collaboration takes place among many teachers in different schools throughout Ontario. But what about collaboration among classes across 3 continents? Share the theory and practice of this experience integrating Information Studies in a variety of cross curricular projects.

515 OLITA MTCC 206CD

8:45 am-10:00 am

THE ELECTRONIC BOOK: IS THE FUTURE HERE NOW?

Donna Marentette, Director of Technology and Development, Windsor Public Library; Lynn Silipigni Connaway, Vice President of Research and Library Systems, netLibrary, Inc.; Neelima June, Reference Librarian, Adult Services, Algonquin Area Public Library District.

Are e-books the next chapter in the digital revolution? E-journals have become an integral component in many library collections, offering consortia opportunities and simultaneous access. Are we ready for the electronic book? Join this session for perspectives on different approaches to using and adding the e-book to your library.

Convenor: Sam Kalb, Queen's University.

516 OLITA YCIT

8:45 am-10:00 am

HANDS-ON COMPUTER SESSION
Maximum: 30 TICKET REQUIRED

BASICS OF WEB DESIGN I: BASIC HTML

Sean Crowe, Systems Administrator, Wentworth Libraries.

Web design is moving beyond HTML, and yet HTML is still the core coding language on the Web. By the end of this session, participants will be able to code a web document from scratch, format text and create tables using simple HTML commands. Planning and organizing a site will also be discussed. No HTML coding experience required.
Convenor: Ellen Stroud, Canada Millennium Partners Program.

AMOS LAKOS 509

DR. LYNDA PINNINGTON 510

LYNN SILIPIGNI CONNAWAY 515

SEAN CROWE 303, 516, 613, 713