

Leah Kearney

Your Role In Guiding the “Next Generation”

—and How TVO Can Help You to Build Understanding of Indigenous Cultures in Canada (and More)

As the Government of Ontario’s partner in digital learning, TVO exists to ignite the potential in everyone through the power of learning. We believe that Indigenous perspectives, shared through articles, videos and podcasts, help to inform all Ontarians about the realities of Indigenous life. This serves to engage citizens of all ages in the richness and diversity of the many cultures of Indigenous people in Canada, and ultimately, to promote and build important understanding.

As teacher-librarians, you play an integral role in fostering understanding of and appreciation for Indigenous cultures amongst the “next generation” – and TVO can serve as an important resource for you. We regularly share culturally sensitive, quality journalism and video story-telling that can support your learning goals. To take this offering even further, TVO recently introduced a new Indigenous Hub which means that more in-depth current affairs analysis and context will be shared through on-the-ground Indigenous voices and perspectives. When looking for ways to foster learning, understanding, and engagement related to Ontario’s K-12 curriculum, look no further than TVO and TVO.org. New content is added daily, and below are but a few examples of the videos, articles and programs you may find useful to your work:

TVO’s In-Depth Current Affairs:

How straw homes could help solve the First Nations housing crisis
Published On: Jan 08, 2019
Indigenous communities across the province are dealing with inadequate housing. Farmers’ fields may hold the answer.

Indigenous

The Agenda with Steve Paikin:

A HELPLINE FOR INDIGENOUS WOMEN
Serving the Community -20:20

View Transcript

TVOKids.com: Raven’s Quest Series

Raven’s Quest
Peyton
Peyton is an 8-year-old Métis girl from Winnipeg, Manitoba. Peyton loves to jig and would like to be a Métis jig teacher when she grows up.

The Agenda with Steve Paikin

A Helpline for Indigenous Women

Talk4Healing, a helpline promoting mental health and well-being for Indigenous women, will expand its service across Ontario. To discuss what this means, The Agenda welco...

To make it easy for you to incorporate unique resources like these into your activities, on many topics and curriculum strands, we have launched a simple way to search for and integrate 10,000+ TVO videos, articles, and games. With a few simple clicks you can enhance in-class learning with TVO’s unique offering of in-depth current affairs, thought-provoking documentaries, and award-winning TVOKids content. Use TVO in the Classroom to discover new and interactive ways you can inspire curiosity, exploration, growth and learning in your students. Find what you like and bring TVO into your lessons today! Visit your virtual learning environment, speak with your technology enabled learning and teaching contact, or check-out TVO.org to get started or learn more. **!