OLITA Tech Talks

Have you been working on an interesting tech-related project that you're itching to share with the world? Do you have the inside scoop on a groundbreaking new technology, or an innovative way of using old tech? Submit a proposal for OLITA Tech Talks at Super Conference 2017.

Each "lightning style" talk will have a time limit of 5 minutes, plus time for a few quick questions from the audience. Never given a lightning talk before? Pick up some tips.

The deadline to submit is Nov. 21. Give your talk a title and a 3-4 sentence description. You will be notified of acceptance by Nov. 28. If you have questions, email Graham at glavender@gmail.com.

Fail Stories - Brought to You by OCULA

At OLA Super Conference in February 2017 we want to hear about grand failures in academic libraries...in 7 minutes or less! Tell us about the beautiful failure: Was there an event that no one attended? Did a liaison relationship go nowhere? Did an online tutorial crash and burn?

Join us in a supportive and constructive environment as speakers share their great ideas gone wrong in a lightning talk format. You never know you might be inspired!

The deadline to submit is Nov. 21. You will be notified of acceptance by Nov. 28.
