

Introducing the Forest of Reading's Newest Tree: The Yellow Cedar Award!

We are excited to announce a new addition to the Forest of Reading! We are consolidating our two school-aged non-fiction programs, the Silver Birch Non-Fiction Award and the Red Maple Non-Fiction Award, into one award program - the Yellow Cedar Award!

Details of the new award programs are as follows:

- A curated list of 10 non-fiction titles
- The list will be targeted for Grade 5-8 (Silver Birch Express does have 5 Non-Fiction titles as part of their list geared at Grade 3-4 or the reluctant reader in Grade 5-6).
- This Award will be given at the annual Festival of Trees in Toronto every May.
- The nominated titles will be announced with the other school-aged programs in October.
- This award will replace the Silver Birch Non-Fiction and Red Maple Non-Fiction lists.

More details will be announced over the summer.

ON OUR SHELVES

Raise $$$$ with Store in a Box!

It's a box customized with products to sell that fit your budget and needs; ideal for bringing the fun to conferences, workshops, and events. You can even sell the products in your library year-round! The best part? You can return unsold merchandise within 30 days and you don't have to pay until then. That means you make money before you pay us. Store in a Box will typically generate between $150 to $600 in profit for your library or institution.

From Alberta to Nova Scotia, Store in a Box has already travelled to communities across the country. Will yours be next?
