VERDICT IN FAVOR OF THE "TEA POT"
SOME DOCTORS IN Tea, Sugar, Coffee, and Spices, From various causes were visiting in Paris, Till finally into fire, quarrel was pressing, Till finally it was checked by some stranger appearing, 'Tis 't' he exclaimed, "Is this your plan, my friend? Yours passions restrain, and disturb not the peace? The tea, only, that's worth finding out— Let's try it and calmly put that to rest, And let me shall find out the cheapest and best; And when it's decided, proclaimed let it be, Who sells the best Coffee and whole best Tea." The plan was approved of, and judges elected, Who honest opinions had never been suspected, When the Tea, and that Tea, they tasted in Paris, And then tried the Coffee from out a new turn— And in a few seconds returned to decide, Unbiased, and void of all prejudice, Unite in asserting that ROBINSON'S TEA We've put in each possible way to the test, And as for their COFFEES, we would declare, Such Coffee is not to be met with elsewhere, Thus calmly was concluded affairs, And Robinson's Tea are the chosen of the day.
