

AUDACIOUS ROBBERY IN NEW YORK.

A New York paper says:—A most audacious robbery was committed in William Street, between nine and ten o'clock Saturday morning, by which two thieves, whose whereabouts no clue has yet been obtained, escaped with their plunder, amounting to eighteen thousand dollars in bank notes and checks. It appears that Samuel Terry, a youth of sixteen years, employed as a messenger in the Farmers and Citizens' National Bank of New York, was sent to the Park National Bank of this city on Saturday morning, with a large amount of money for exchange. Terry crossed over the Roosevelt street ferry, and after landing took the nearest route for the bank. While about to turn the corner of Beckman and William streets, Terry observed two men having on a burlap coat in a butcher's cart, and only stopped in front of the cart. One of the men struck him across the face with a pistol, knocking him down. The assailant then seized the satchel containing the treasure, and, instantly jumping into the cart with the plunder, drove rapidly up Williams street with his comrade and escaped.

Terry proceeded on to the Oak street police station, where he reported his loss, and directly afterwards went to the Second ward station house, where similar information was lodged with Capt. De Camp. The report of the messenger showed that he had been robbed of $11,000 in Treasury and other notes, beside $70,000 in checks. This statement was also reiterated by a messenger of the Farmers and Citizens' National Bank of Williamsburg, who subsequently called on Capt. De Camp, at the Second ward station house, but later in the day the teller of the same bank reported that the amount in checks stolen, instead of being $70,000, was only $7,000, thus making the sum taken by the highwaymen $18,000. The messenger made no indications of having been struck on the face with a pistol, and one or two men who witnessed the occurrence in part deny that he was struck at all, and say that the satchel was forcibly wrenched from him and thrown aboard the cart, into which the thief instantly jumped.

No minute description of the men has been obtained, but from the information at hand the police are doing everything in their power to detect and arrest the robbers. The perpetrators of this crime are supposed to belong to a class of offenders known as "log" thieves, or "store" thieves, who go about the city with a horse and cart and steal butchered pork, hams of bacon, &c., which they find exposed in the front of stores. A reward of one thousand dollars has been offered by the bank for the recovery of the money.

A remarkable incident occurred in Gedling Church, Nottingham, England, on Christmas day. A man aged eighty-four died whilst taking the sacrament. He had walked a considerable distance to church, and was apparently in good health, but he had been heard to declare he would die on Christmas day.

A lady coming from Montreal to Fonthill had brought a love of silk at the former place, and after entering the cars a customs-house officer asked her if she had any thing that required examination. Very innocently she produced her valise, the said silk lying in her lap all the while, done up in a small bag. The officer asked the owner to hold that whilst she exhibited the contents of the valise. The innocent victim, not suspecting that common looking parcel of silk being an offender, allowed her to go on her way rejoicing.
