After-wit is a cheap and nasty kind chilosophy in which very small wits are much prone to indulge. Nothing is more common than for the members of the Partington family to exclaim after the deed is done, " told you how it would be." There is a certain cast of mind no doubt, to which this phi osophical plagiarism is peculiarly gratifying; and we are bound to confess, that it is ofvery safe character as concerning the infalli- lay.) bility of the oracles.

that certain other good citizens being member, of the Board of Trade, glorified themselves on Tuesday last, by passing resolutions upon matters which some three weeks previously were of high importance and then debatable. But, inasmuch as the time of discussion had by Treaty or Legislative enactment being at the time of this meeting no longer upon the anvil, but disposed of b the rejection of the American propositions b our delegates, it was entirely a work of supererogation on the part of the Board of Trade, to discuss the merits of the defunct negotiation. To exhume the dead body of the conference for the sake of holding an inquest upon the cause of its death, appears to us to have been as ill timed as it was useless and pretentious. There is no accounting for tastes, and if it gratified the amour propre of our commercial savans, their verdict upo the failure of the Washington conference may be passed over as the coal-heaver's excuse .or his wife's thrashing him-"It pleases she and dose'nt hurt I."

was burned down last evening. It had not been occupied for two months, and hence the fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The engines and firemen turned out promptly, and did what they could to extinguish the flames. The building, which is insured for $800, was owned by Mr. Defries, of the Mill road. It was last occupied by a tavernkeeper named Ernest .- Globe

A man named Seahill was lodged in the gaol at Lindsay, on last Tuesday night, charged with having stabbed a man of the name of Clarke, some time during that day, in Carden. The two men had been on terms for a length of time, and quarrelled on the road home, Seahill terminated the dispute by stabbing Clarke in the back with a jack-knife. It has been since rumored that Clarke is dead, which, however, may not be Mysterious Shooting .- The Quebec Chronicle says :- As Mr. G. O. Fiset, a young gentleman of this city, was walking up Hope Hill, on Sunday night, about eight o'clock, he sud denly heard something like the detonation of a fire-arm. A soldier of the Royal Artillery was coming down the hill, and hearing the same noise, stopped and asked what it meant, remarking that something had passed near his head. It would be interesting to know who Barnes, Burlington. was indulging in this promiscuous shooting. School Books .- A note from the Education Office, referring to the national school books, requests us to state that it was decided by the
