the artillery could no longer fire on us; the very earth shook under the chormous mass of men and horses. I never shall forget the strange noises our bullets made against the br. astplates of Kellerman's and Milhaud's cuir assiers, six or seven thousand in number, the price per cord for each of the following descriptions of wood, and the quantity of each kind who attacked us with great fury. I can only compare it with a semewhat homely storm beating upon panes of glass. The artillery did great execution, but our men though it brought down a great many rom limbs and coarse logs, and is to be delivered spite of the efforts of their riders, came to standweekly (along side of the Boiler Houses connected | still, shaking and covered with foam, at about with the respective Blocks of Buildings), in such twenty yards distant from our squares, and quantities as may be required, which it is expected | generally resisted all attempts to force them to charge the line of serried steel. On one occasion two gallant French, officers forced their way into a gap momentarily creatd by the discharge of artillery; one killed by Staples, the other by Adair. Nothing could veterans, many of whom had distinguished themselves on half the battle-fields of Europe In the midst of our terrible fire their officers were seen, as on parade, keeping order in their ranks, and encouraging them.

Unable to renew the charge, but unwilling to retreat, they brandished their swords with loud cries of " Vive L'Empereur !" and allowed themselves to be moved down by hundreds cather then yield. Our men, who shot them down, could not help rdmiring the gallant bearing and heroic resignation of their enemics.

The A'bert Nyanza is a lake of vast although untion by sea of certain animals and articles should anown dimensions but certainly in frior neither to the Victoria Nyanga por the Tanganyika, His Excellency in Council, on the recommendation of the Honorable the Minister of Agriculture, and anges on the west, and of the Utumbi, Uganda and Unyoro countries to the east. There is ven considerable reason to doubt whether the iver struck by Captain Speke at Madi is even same which he left at the Karuma Falls, or no part of the subsequent course, although hides, horns, hoofs, or other parts of such animals, indicated upon a map for two hundred geographical miles, was ever seen by him; and Dr. Pency, one of the Austrian missionaries, who resided for nine years at Gondokoro, conluded from the result of long observation, that the river which flows past that place ontributes little or nothing to the flood of the Nile. The sum of Captain Sp. ke's dis overier, uarefore, now appears to consist in the tect that he discovered in his first exploratory journ y the great lak. Then she muscles of the thighs were cut out in the ame manner. After the executioner had performed tuese drealful tortures upon the poor wretch, he laid his small knife aside and took another, about ten inches long and about an meh droad, and cut gashes on each side of the man's chest, laying the ribs bare. Then he made several flourishes with the knif , ran it into the poor victim's body, int ring just below the sternum in the middle of the chest, to the full extent of the blade, and, coming downwards with the knife, let out his entrails. He then slashed and cut open the stomach. Then giving a yell, he ran his hand in, and seized the man's liver, and cut it out. This finished the torture, and the executioner left the victim in this mutilated state, not yet dead. The pody was exposed for five days afterwards, to the great annoyance of the Europeans who ocupled the houses adjacent. y a very able exponent of the pre ent anti-Anglican f. cling in this country-speaks ery decidedly against the proposal to invade lanada. Su.h a step, it declares, " would be ooked upon as filibustering by the people of his country and Canada. What right have we to invad. Canada against the wishes of the Camadians the misclyes ? Even the Fenians are sposed to it. We would lose more men and money in such an olj et than would ir e Ireand. B. sides it would be a violation of faith with the men at home and the Fenians here. We have promised all kinds of material aid to the men in Irland. Will we desert them in heir hour of need for a Canadian invadon? such a movement would most likely call forth the opposition of the Am rican Government, whose sympathics are with us, while our object is to free our country. If we had Canada what would it avail us? We were as far from reland as ever. It is much easier for an Engish fleet to block the few ports of Canada than the ocean-bound coast of Ireland. In a word James Shephens has voted it as unwise and impracticable. Are we to ignore James Steshens, or rather place him at d fiance, by an act both impolitic and impracticable? It is not forsuch a projet we have given our mone , but for an invasion of Irelan !
