Nothing is yet decided as to the meeting of the Legislature, though the general belief amongst the gossips is that it will be called before the second week in May has transpired. There are sufficient reasons, no doubt, for and to be styled the "Victoria Cadet Corps cases the rule laid down for the guidance of the delay in fixing the day upon which the Drill Association," "assembled wisdom" shall be called together. The grand question which must necessarily be "the question" of the session is, it is easy to conceive, bardly ripe for the definite action of the Canadian Legislature. The recent getting off the track near the Oxford Station crisis in New Brunswick, brought about by the decided step taken by the Legislative Council, greatly alters the complexion of affairs in that Province, and it is impossible to say what may result from a change of Ministry and the manifestly altered state of public opinion there in regard to Confederation. Nova Scotia also is about dealing with the subject, and it is impossible to calculate what may "turn up," as Mr. Macawber would say, after what has recently taken place in the adjoining Province. Again, Newfoundland has pronounced favorably for Confederation, and thus adds another member to the union over and above what was calculated upon at the Quebec Conference. A further and very important consideration which we think not unlikely to influence the time at which our legislature may be summoned to meet is the sitting of the Imperial Parliament
