DEAR SIRS,-I cannot express too strongly my appreciation of your efforts to establish a model house business. Your system supplies a most important desideratum in the education of youth. It has often surprised me that the community at large seems blind to the utility of such training as your valuable, or rather invaluable, institution affords. I have asked how it is that a man professing to be a physican rather invaluable, institution allords. I have asked now it is that a man processing to be a physican will not be employed, and will even be stigmatised as a "quack," except he has gone through a regular course of anatomy, physiology, and so forth, and has also attended an hospital and clinical lectures; and the same may be said of the lawyer; and yet a youth is taken into a counting-house or store, wholly ignorant of the duties he undertakes, and having everything to learn. I consider, therefore, that such a system as yours is of the greatest importance both to the employer and employed, as it saves the former the time and labor of teaching every new hand, and the latter the waste of time involved in a long apprenticeship. Your admirable system of real business is a complete remedy for this defect, and I consider a mile from Billings Bridge. This land can be really and the latter the very structure of the above. that your great success in this department is made clearly manifest by the air of reality that your stu | sold en bloc or in lots of 5 acres. dents display in their model transactions, and by their downheartedness when they fail to meet their engagements, imaginary though they be. I was certainly amazed in visiting your Bank, Merchants' Emporium and Exchange Office, and witnessing the eagerness and business-like manner of your clerks, tellers, and merchants, and have no doubt but a youth trained in your College, on entering a counting-house or store, will be very competent to discharge the duties allotted to him by his employer.

Your exertions are making a great improvement in the capabilities of the rising generation of our salesmen and accountants, and from being obliged, as in former years, to put up with boys from school, POSSESSION G
