CORRESPONDENCE.

W's IGNORANCE. To the Editor of the Times:

Sm.—In the Citizen of the 11th May, an angry correspondent, who styles himself "W," attacks the Montreal Weekly "Evangelist."

"W" quotes the following paragraph:—"I have the novel, in a letter to a gentleman in Boston, says: 'I have closed my career as a writer of fiction. I am gloomy and unhappy. I have a neighbor with which I have no acquaintance where it is not to be found.'"

"W" declares that he is admitted on all hands, and recognized in every law, civil and ecclesiastical, that the person who, without being able to prove it, charges his neighbor with falsehood and with 'malicious forgery,' is a malicious slanderer, and may be prosecuted, fined, or sent to penitentiary for defamation of character.

"W" declares that he is admitted on all hands, and recognized in every law, civil and ecclesiastical, that the person who, without being able to prove it, charges his neighbor with falsehood and with 'malicious forgery,' is a malicious slanderer, and may be prosecuted, fined, or sent to penitentiary for defamation of character.
