OTAWA, JUNE 9, 1866.

It is with extreme regret that we hear very general complaint by the gentlemen connected with the press, of the difficulty of hearing in the galleries of the two Legislative Chambers.

As we read the now pretty well digested and consecutive reports of the encounters between our Volunteers and the Fenians at Fort Erie, we cannot but feel that the damage the former suffered, was due to gross mismanagement or to something worse.

about, and these, at least, should be dealt with promptly, not hastily, but promptly.

Then there is also a naturally eager desire to learn what has been done in respect of the five or six of several hundred Fenians captured by the American steamer Michigan.

According to present appearances we have seen all the Fenians we are likely to see for some time, and if the American authorities do their duty, we need not fear the St. Albans raid, as we did once before.

Again the monetary system of St. Albans has become a failure. Again has financial England been shaken to its very centre by the insecurity of the foundation upon which that system is based.

LOCAL NEWS. ACCIDENTAL.—We are sorry to learn that by an accidental discharge of a revolver this morning a man, whose name we did not learn, was struck through the arm.

Another Accident.—Mr. Bronson fell off a pile of lumber, at the Chaudiere, and injured himself very greatly. He broke an arm, contusion of the head, besides several internal injuries.

Delinquents.—Mrs. M. A. Trotter of the Toronto House, has received by express, (the first in this market) a quantity of Tomatoes, also Oranges, Fine Apples, Lobsters, &c. Call and see them.

Divine Service.—Service will be celebrated on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, in the Church of St. Charles, for the accommodation of the troops and strangers in town. St. Alban's Parson: Services in Court House, (free) Holy Communion at 8 a.m.; Noon sermon at 11 a.m.; Evening sermon at 7 p.m.

Immigrants.—We were highly gratified yesterday at the appearance of some German and Norwegian immigrants, who were proceeding to the Upper Ottawa, to settle on farms there. Their general appearance was very good. They were clean, healthy and hardy, and in every respect such as our country requires.

Views.—Messrs. Siff & Gregory, have on hand the best views of the Parliament Buildings we have yet seen. Views of the Chaudiere and Rideau Falls. Their Porcelain Picture is a triumph of art. In it you have a beautiful and undying souvenir, being somewhat like the old style of ivory, and softer than the best of the material, as taken at this Art Gallery, would prove an adornment to a palace.

The Parliament Saloon.—We had the pleasure of visiting this institution yesterday, and must confess an agreeable surprise to find that such simple arrangements had been effected for the accommodation of the Members and their friends. The dining-room is fitted up in a style of magnificence rarely seen; indeed the whole arrangement is perfectly in keeping with this gigantic structure. Mr. John Shaver, who has the honour of being the manager of this institution, is in every way qualified for the task, and has prepared for the supplying of all the requisites in a most liberal manner; so much so, indeed, that we doubt, under circumstances, his being any remuneration for the heavy expense he has gone to.

Officers of Parliament.—Although yesterday was not observed as a general holiday, as was intended, yet the streets, shops, public buildings and people were a kind of gala appearance. Large numbers of very respectable people, on foot and in carriages, thronged the public streets and the Parliament grounds. We missed the salute of cannon, usual on such occasions, but the guns are at the front on duty. The Bell's Corners Infantry, Captain W. Powell, constituted the guard of honour; Ottawa Garrison Battery, No. 2, Captain J. B. Buckingham Infantry, Captain McNamilton, Hawkebury Infantry, Lieut. Ogden; Civil Service Rifles, Capt. Anderson, lined the way to the House, and the two companies of Cadets were posted inside the building, and they stood close to his post, with all the gravity of veterans. These companies were very justly admired by all who saw them, and at such a time as this we all feel proud of them.
