The Montreal Board of Health, as we learn from the papers of that city, have made their final report for the season, and we suppose the Ottawa Board will soon follow their example. Before they do so, however, we trust they will take effectual means to compel Queen, Metcalle and Albert streets to drain, fill up, or otherwise abate that noxious an dangerous nuisance. We understand that nearly all the inhabitants of the above named streets have signed a petition praying for active measures in this matter, but the Corporation have not yet taken any step to carry out the decree of the Board of Health upon the subject. This appears to be the more unpartionable as the owners of this pestilential property are persons of wealth, who should not be suffered to trifle with their neighbors' health or lives, while the poor in the lower parts of the city have been rigorously and properly compelled to remove every heap of garbage and pool of water from their pre mises. Though this year neither cholers nor any pestilential disease has manifested itself course, and vindicated the majesty of its to a degree to excite alarm in Canada, the present immunity from danger ought to be no escuse for the toleration of admittedle dangerous nuisances; on the contrary, it should act as a stimulus to the prosecution of ernment speaks, trumpet-tongued, to us that sanitary reforms in all the large centres of our only security rests with ourselves, and
