The construction is simple and natural, all the extraneres lamber in the body of the instrument is dispensed with; the sound boards are merely two arched planks of thin wood, like the front and bank of a violin; the strings are attached to a strong iron frame, which is separated and entirely independent of the care, thereby dispensing with the old harp form of string ing by substituting straight bridges, preserving at the same time the Over Strung Bass, of which Mr.

Tribune says :- I have a mined your newly invented Piano-Fortes. They merit all the grains given to them by Mersis, Thallers, Getterhalk Strackosch, Mason and others. As regards structure, they are original and philosophical; in parity,

It can sing with a smooth delicacy, perfectly unattainable on any other instrument; an ordinary player obtains with no exertion, the fullness of a tirmed Plane-Forte, and they must speedily supercede the old style. GENTLEMEN:-Having thoroughly examined and tested the Prano-Fortes, invented and patented by Mr. S. B. Driggs, I am of the opinion that the tone resulting from his improvements as exhibited in the instruments under examination, in point of richters, depth and brilliancy, equals that of the best Grand Piano-Fortes, and errols them in pure, musical intenation and octued tone, power thus apparaisant ing closer to what I consider perfection in the indep-
