The Halifax Chronicle, a bitter anti-secessionist sheet, calls attention to the fact that the constitution of the Local Legislature of the Maritime Provinces is due to be provided under Confederation, while Upper and Lower Canada have already agreed to their respective forms of Local Government.

In Canada the case was quite different. The Canadian Government and Legislature will be ousted out of existence by Confederation; therefore it was necessary that the machinery of the Local Government for Upper and Lower Canada should be provided in advance.

It is hardly safe to hazard an opinion upon Mexican affairs. One day we learn that Maximilian has abdicated in utter hopelessness in Canada, and that the Emperor has fled to the United States.

There is no chance of the "face of the earth" there being within their own borders for a generation of patriots without deserting their allegiance to external complications, the end of which no man can say.
