LORD CARNARYON has transmitted to the Colonial authorities an important despate relating to the Fenian prisoners, in which, as will be seen, he pointedly rebukes Mu. Sew-ARD for his over officious interference, and even condescends to read him a lesson which the pompous little Secretary of State will do well to lay to heart for future application. He also, while communicating the intelli an earnest warning that no such lenience will be shewn to any like offenders in th future-nothing less than the extreme penalty of the law-awaits them, and it is we known. I am of a band Who will faithfully stand In the bonds of affection and love I have knocked at the door Once wretched and poor. And there for admission I stood.

- By the help of a friend Who assistance did lend, I succeeded an entrance to gain; Way received in the West By command from the East, But not without feeling some pain.

Here my conscience was taught With a moral quite fraught-With sentiments holy and tone : Then onward I travelled

To have it unravelled What Hiram intended to do. Very sooner the East I made known my request, And " light" by command did attend:
When lo! I perfeiv_d,
In due form revealed,

A Master and Brother and Friend. Thus for I have stated, And simply related What happened when I was made free But I've " passed" since then, And was " raised" up again . To a sublime and ancient degree.

Then onward I marched. That I might be " Arched," And find out the treasure long lost; When behold! a bright flame, From the midst of which came A voice, which my ears did accost. Through the, vails" I then went,

And succe. ded at length, The " anctum Sanctorum" to find : By the " Signer" 1 gained And quickly obtained Employment which suited my mind. In the depths I then wrought. And most cheerfully sought For treasures long hidden there ;

And by labor and toil I discovered rich spai, Which are kept by the craft with due care. Having thus far arrived. I further contrived Among valiant Knights to appear

A POPULAR DANISH STORY.

In the village of Ebberup, in Funen, lived a very wealthy farmer, who had gone one day to Assens with a load of barley, so one of his neighbors, a cottager, asked leave to go along with him for the sake of fetching home goods: in the empty cart. The farmer had no objection, so the cottager followed the cart on the rental in one case, and to six per cent. on Vichy and Kali or Potass Waters; Tonic and consistent with the rights and dignity from it, as a stimulant, an astringent, and as it was a very hot day, he pulled "I have the honor to state in received on the fith inst., truth of this assertion so far as it goes; but summer Nectar.
