The "Tribune" for 1867

1867 more presperous in business than ever before. The expediency of enlarging our pages—thus making The Tribune the largest and cheapest newspaper in America—was doubted by many. We have found our account in it. The circulation of The Tribune is stendily increasing, and cur ex-vertising patronage has increased so much that it is more difficult to print our news than when we used a smaller sheet, and this difficulty we can only meet by frequently publishing supplementar)

The close of the war has imposed upon The Triproblems. We have met them as best we could, laboring with sincerity for Freedom, Social Progress, Political Equality, Impartial Suffrage-Ail Rights for All. A Republican President became the enemy of Republicanum, and we have been called upon to denounce and expose the treacheries of a degraded Administration. It was not without pain, certainly not without much thinking, that we made an issue with President Johnson. The people approved our course by returning their Radical representatives to power. The elections of 1866—as important to the nation as Loe's surrender-make new duties. Reconstruction is now the duty of the country-political reconstructionreconstruction in finances and tariffs. We are no longer pressed by war necessities, and we must amend our war experiments. The present conustion of the currency is a grevious evil. Trade selffors ; our manufacturing interests are in a precurlous state. A collar does not mean a dollar, but its fraction. It may be sixty cents, it may be tens It is a remiment, not a fact. When the inbiter carne his dollar, he does not know whether he has one lost or ten. All business is feverish and the seffied. We think this can only be remedied by a wise and intrepled policy at Washingtor - Ly reducing the currency to the specie busis. Upon this we shall misist The necessity of Protection to Labor again proceses upon us. We regret that on this most important measure the Republican party is sivided. An honest but mischievous minority in the heat, particularly, are endeavoring to create a policy which can only result in the prostration of America can industry -the degradation of labor, and the aggrandment of English englishers. Lurary the many years of our weak we have effigured against this interest. We believe protection there necessary now than ever before, and we shall misist upon the broadest and wisest legislation for the Lights of Labor.

It the perplexing question of Reconstruction we see no reason to an end the pelicy which we have asserted since the close of the war. It then seemed to us that emancipation of the tlack should be followed by suffrage for the black. We did not me ing. We had too much blood in war to ask for blood in peace-even to gratify angry venguanco It seemed important that the South should concede sullrage, and that the North should concede amnesty. Some of our friends disapproved of this; but Congress has followed our acvice. Amnesty has been approved by Congress—to a greater ex-tent than we claimed in The Tribune. We have And as the whole must be disposed of in order to make room for Spring Stock, GREAT BARGAINS dungeons, who murdered surrendered prisoners, who wielstes the rules of war, and aided the absausing held that the men who starved captives in the rebel violates the rules of war, and aided the assassina tion of Mr. Lincoln, should be tried and punished. Congress and the Administration have agreed that no punishment should be inflicted even apon mer who are charged with these crimes, and the only measure looking like punishment is the ameadment of distranchisement from holding office, which is merely a sentimental and not a practical penalty on the other hand, the passage of the Civil Region Bill, the Freedman's Bureau Bill, and the Bill for Suffrage in the District of Columbia, above that reconstruction will not be consummated without suffrage and protection for the blacks. The policy of The Tribune has been practically adopted by those who differed with to during its discussion. We never quarrel with triends who are impatient with us. We do them the justice of believing they go their way to what is right, just as we trust they will do us the justice of believing we go our way to what is right. We work for the same object, but perbaps in different ways. We have no higher aim than to secure peace to this nation, and to all nations-liberty, progress, happiness, virtue, and the universal brotherhood of man. And for this we shall continue to toil in our best way. We have reorganized and strengthened every department of The Tribune. We have correspond dents in every part of this country, and in every ing seamen who desert from British merchant | quit of the world; resident correspondents in every America; special correspondents who follow im Majesty may by order in Council, stating that such portant movements in all parts of the earth. The facilities are or will be given, declare that scamen | establishment costs a great deal of money, and to not being slaves, who desert from merchant ships organize it we have invested many thousands of deliars. When we state that there are three hunbelonging to such Powers, when within Her Ma- ared people directly or indirectly connected with jesty's dominions, shall be limble to be apprehend-ed and carried on coard their respective ships, and columns and giving it news, and that for every item may limit the operation of such Order, and may of news we pay money, the vest expense of our nder the operation thereof subject to such conditions and qualifications, if any, as may be deeved large these facilities, and not only to guther news expedient; and whereas it has been made to ap- gitted men of other countries to write for the colpear to Her Majesty, that due facilities are given | umns. With many of them we have already entered ento negotiations which will result in giving to the readers of The Tribune a series of essays that, both for their intrinsic value and the fame of their illusof journalism.
