THE "TRIBUNE" enters upon the year 1867 more prosperous in business than ever before. The expediency of enlarging our pages—thus making The Tribune the largest and cheapest newspaper in America—was doubted by many. We have found our account in it. The circulation of The Tribune is steadily increasing, and our advertising patronege has increased so much that it is more difficult to print our news than when we used a smaller sheet, and this difficulty we can only meet by frequently publishing supplementary

The close of the war has imposed upon The Tri-June the discussion of momentum and peculiar problems. We have met them as best we could, aboring with sincerity for Freedom, Social Pro-The following important notice to Navigators gress, Political Equality, Impartial Sufirage-All been issued from the Colonial Office, Natal, Rights for All. A Republican Fresident became in reference to a Light House, erected on the Bluff, the enemy of Republicanum, and we have been called upon to denounce and expose the treacheries of a degraded Administration. It was not Natal, to which the attention of all concerned is without pain, certainly not without much thinking, that we made an issue with President Johnson. The people approved our course by returning their Radical representatives to power. The elections of 1866—as important to the nation as Lee's surrender-make new duties. Reconstruction is now econstruction in finances and tariffs. We are no longer pressed by war necessities, and we must amend our war experiments. The present condition of the currency is a grevious evil. Trade sufious state. A collar does not mean a dollar, bet its fraction. It may be sixty cents, it may be ten.
It is a sentiment, not a fact. When the laborer carps his dellar, he does not know whether he has one loat or ten. All business is feverish and unsettled. We think this can only be remedied by

> The necessity of Protection to Labor again press es upon us. We regret that on this most import-ant measure the Republican party is divided. An honest but mischievous minerity in the West, particularly, are endeavoring to create a policy which can only result in the prostration of American industry-the degradation of labor, and the aggrandmement of Luglish capitalists. During the many years of our work we have struggled against this interest. We believe protection more necessary now than ever before, and we shall insist upon the broadest and wisest togislation for the Rights of Labor. In the perplexing question of Reconstruction we see no reason to amend the policy which we have asserted since the close of the war. It then seemed to us that emancipation of the black should be followed by suffrage for the black. We did not see A Light House has been erected on the Bluff, at the policy of promiscuous confiscation and hang-ing. We had too much blood in war to ask for blood in peace-even to gratify angry vengeance. suffrage, and that the North should concede amnesty. Some of our friends disapproved of this; but Congress has followed our advice. Amnesty has been approved by Congress-to a greater extout than we claimed in The Tribune. We have held that the men who starved captives in the rebel dangeons, who murdered surrendered prisoners, who violated the rules of war, and aided the assassina-Congress and the Administration have agreed that no punishment should be inflicted even upon men (dioptric), attaining its greatest brilliancy once who are charged with these crimes, and the only measure looking like pumahment is the amendment of disfranchisement from holding office, which is It is visible in all directions from North (round | merely a sentimental and not a practical penalty. On the other hand, the passage of the Civil Rights Bill, the Freedman's Bureau Bill, and the Bill for Suffrage in the District of Columbia, show that reconstruction will not be consummated without suffrage and protection for the blacks.
