

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

On no occasion will the names of Old Advertisements be inserted here.

India Warehouse—Brown & Hardy.
New Room Opening—Garland, Mutchmor & Co.
Ordnance Lands—William F. Coffin.
North Leeds and Grenville—Mr. Gowen.
Houses Wanted to Rent.

THE POST-OFFICE—OTTAWA.

DELIVERING AND CLOSING OF MAIL.

MAILS.	DELIVERED.
Eastern, Montreal, Quebec, &c.	11:40 a.m.
1:00 p.m.	7:30 p.m.
Western, Toronto, Hamilton.	11:40 a.m.
1:00 p.m.	7:30 a.m.
UNITED STATES.	11:40 a.m.
Aylmer, and offices above, on North side of the Ottawa River, and on the Ottawa, Arnprior, Pembroke, & Ottawa Rivers.	11:30 a.m.
Bell's Corners, Rockwood, Perth, &c.	6:00 p.m.
Gatineau, and Lower Ottawa River.	8:00 p.m.
Kemptown, and Lower Ottawa and Prescott Halloway.	6:00 p.m.
Kingston, and Upper Gatineau.	8:00 p.m.
Pembroke and East Templeton.	12:30 a.m.

BRITISH MAIIS.

British Mail is sent by Canadian steamer from Portland, every Thursday at 12:30 p.m., and from steamer every Saturday at 12:30 p.m., and from steamer every Monday at 12:30 p.m., and from steamer every Wednesday at 12:30 p.m.

Money orders on Royal Mail Order Office in Canada, Great Britain and Ireland, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and Prince Edward Island, and on all post offices in Canada.

Letters for New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and P. E. Island, via Portland, should be mailed before 11 a.m. on Tuesday, and for Newfoundland, via Boston, before the close of each Canadian steamer's mail from that port.

Office hours—8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

G. F. BAKER, Postmaster.

The Ottawa Times

City and County Official Paper.

OTTAWA, APRIL 10, 1867.

It appears that an erroneous impression has gone abroad regarding the action taken at a meeting of the Conservatives of South Grenville, recently held at Spencerville. One report represents that Mr. CLARKE, Mayor of Prescott, was nominated for the Local Legislature, another, that the Convention failed to agree. We have private advices from the Riding, contradicting both these statements; and we find in the Prescott Messenger an explanation regarding the action of the Convention, precisely in accordance with the information which otherwise reached us, with the additional intelligence that Mr. CLARKE had previously given it to understand that he would decline the honor of nomination.

The Convention adjourned without making any nomination, though as a matter of fact, it is well understood in the Riding that the sitting Member, Mr. SHEARLY, will be the candidate for the House of Commons, and we cannot entertain a doubt of his election. With regard to the representation of the Riding in the Local Legislature, we have reason to believe that a gentleman will be brought out who will command the confidence of the Electors, and that already the minds of the most influential men are fully made up as to their choice. Current reports indicate that WILLIAM ELLIS, Esq., will be the candidate for the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

A leading article in a recent number of one of the London sporting journals comments pretty severely on the Canadian Legislature and Government for their fishery laws and policy. We did not at first notice it, because the absurd statements made and lies expressed are not new, and are simply laughable in Canada. Everybody knows them to be a mere echo of the oft repeated and as oft refuted vagaries of two or three eccentric individuals. The Field's editorial having been since reproduced in this country for party purposes, it may be as well to show our London friend how egregiously he has been imposed upon. Some allowance may be made for misplaced confidence; and if our present notice shall awaken the editor to a sense of the risks his paper incurs by committing its colonial reputation to the care of unscrupulous partisans on this side of the Atlantic, it may justify the attention of which the attack is not otherwise deserving.

There exists in Quebec a small but pretentious clique of censorious busybodies, styling themselves the "Fish and Game Club," to whose "report" we did ourselves the pleasure of calling attention some time ago. The going-on President (a gentleman about town) and a scribbling Secretary, really constitute the Society. We regret to see that such respectable names as Mr. Gilmore and Mr. J. B. Forsyth, are lent as makeweights to the light-headed concern. The Club's office—called for "their rooms"—is a pigeon-hole in Peter-street, Quebec, where their lawyer Secretory concocts windy reports and indites hackneyed epistles for lack of briefs and clients. Unable from chronic want of funds and local influence to accomplish any good at home, these worthy clubmen are extending the field of their cheap labors. From catchers of tomcods in the Finlay Market, they have become full-blown political censors in London and New York. Too well known to be needed in Canada, they betake themselves to foreign newspapers, and there flourish for a brief space, until some person, annoyed by the spluttering rancor of their effusions, turns round and snuffs them out. This was the case with a New York print. They button-holed the editor, of Wilkes' Spirit, when a visit to Quebec and so gorged him with slanderous stories, peculiar assertions, and jugularious fancies, that the poor man has had a nightmare of the odious salmonic variety ever since. He returned home perfectly convinced that the fisheries of Canada are in a state of ruin and decay—the Legislature is so prejudiced—the people so ignorant and indifferent to British example or American teaching—that the Executive is so time-serving and corrupt, and the fishery officials such a pack of impostors, always leaving "black mail" on innocent Yankees, that the country must soon go to the dogs, unless General Banks' and Cousin Pomeroy's annexation dreams can be speedily realized. Rooted at the Spirit's office, they now repeat themselves in the Field.

All such trash is quite harmless here, but it may find willing ears in England as it has done in the United States. Apostles of Goldwin Smith and John Bright may take it as a text, and preach that if all this be really the case, and if the people, the parliament, and the cabinet of Canada don't care a fig for fishery interests, "now reduced to the verge of ruin," the Americans might just as well take our fisheries, and thus save the taxpayers of Britain the cost of sending war vessels to promenade about the fishless and neglected waters of Canada. No doubt the pair of Quebec noodies who invent and circulate these mischievous statements would be only too proud of their patriotic labors bearing such delectable fruit.

After depicting our fisheries as "struggling with ruin," the Field affirms that unless we take the club's advice and his own opinion, there will soon be nothing left to legislate about. As Canadians we ought to feel grateful for so much commiseration. Fortunately, it is altogether unnecessary. We are happy to inform the Field that our fisheries are in splendid condition. The deep sea, river and lake fishings were never more prosperous. Our salmon fishing has become completely recruited, and improves each season far beyond our most sanguine expectations. There is an excellent fishery law; we have efficient fishery officers to enforce it, and ministers to administer it, who understand and do their duty. True, they pretend to know what is best, and don't require to be taught either by foreign editors, domestic amateurs, or "noisy ill-informed theorists." But the cream of the joke seems to be a suggestion emanating from this saucy Quebec Club, that "it is impossible to find in the Canadian Government that care for the interests of their fisheries which they require," the Confederation Act should contain a clause referring to the Home Government all fishery legislation for the new Dominion! The Field naively regards this as "a request from the Canadians themselves." The British public have of late been particularly favored by similar appeals, but this beats them all. They have Messrs. Howe and AXANDER, with a petition 30,000 strong, opposing Confederation in the name of 368,781 Nova Scotians. And now Messrs. RHODES and AUSTIN, of Quebec, backed by a club "reputed" by themselves, are protesting against the fishery legislation and policy of Canada in the name of 2,881,900 Canadians. The historic tanners of Tootey-street did not speak for "the people of England" with more presumption.

It is to be hoped that this precious club will now be satisfied with the distinguished measure of newspaper notoriety it has achieved, and in future rest from its hitherto unprofitable labora. At all events sensible people should withdraw their names from an association which is only calculated to make them ridiculous. It would be utter nonsense to discuss the absurd proposition that the Imperial Parliament should undertake to legislate for the fisheries of the new Dominion, but we cannot repress the feeling of surprise at the verdancy of the Field in accepting that suggestion in any other light than that of an emanation from a disordered imagination. No sane man would ever dream of permitting his name to be associated with such a proposition: though in justice to the illustrious directors of the Quebec Fish and Game Club we are bound to admit that it is just as absurd as sensible as any other of their eminently original suggestions. Since, however, the Confederation Act has passed without incorporating their valuable proposition, we beg to recommend them to memorialize the first Legislature of the new Dominion, praying that the sole control of the Canadian fisheries may be placed in their hands, when we promise them their petition will receive all and more than the attention it will deserve!

It will be noticed that the Great Eastern reached New York yesterday morning, having thus been fourteen days on the passage. The Hon. John Rose is supposed by the Montreal Gazette to have been a passenger.

LOCAL NEWS.

FLOUR AT AGAIN.—We regret to announce the unwelcome news that flour advanced 25 cents per barrel registered during the previous night, 24 above zero.

9 a.m., 33 above zero.

Noon, shade, 39 above zero.

Noon, sun, 30 above zero.

6 p.m., 45 above zero.

The CENTRAL HALL.—We were about to congratulate the Central Hook and Ladder Company on their bell having been elevated to its position in the tower rear of the City Hall, but from the mishap at the trial last evening such would seem a mockery. On giving it a trial at 7 p.m., it was discovered to have a large crack clean up one side, thus rendering it utterly useless. We regret this mishap, failing as it does on the company—the bell cost them $186.

THE MARKETS.—The markets, these days, when the roads are spoiled for sleighing, are extremely meager, and prices of nearly all commodities are becoming higher from day to day. Within a few days hay has advanced $3.00 per ton, and we now quote it at $12.00 per £14.00. Potatoes have risen 25cts. per bushel, and oats 10cts. Butchers' meat is almost beyond the reach of poor people, and bread eleven pence a loaf with a probability of its reaching a shilling.

BREAD FOR CASH ONLY.—The Bakers of this city have issued bills printed in the English and French languages announcing that "after the many and ever recurring losses they have sustained," they will from and after Monday last the 8th inst., deliver bread for cash on delivery. This is all right—Bakers must live as well as other people—it is right, too, that those who do pay for their bread should not pay a higher price to make up for those who do not pay. The Bakers came to a similar determination about "cash on delivery" some years ago, but it was departed from, the losses recurred, the Bakers suffered, and those who paid for their bread did pay.

The Buffalo brokers are running against each other to secure Canadian money which is now quoted at one cent, premium, but the result is nothing compared with that after the Canadian destroyer, "which the people have found out to be the very best thing for the cure of colds, rheumatism, sore throat, bowel complaints, &c." Sold by all Medicine Dealers at 25cts. per bottle.

All such trash is quite harmless here, but

NORTH LEEDS AND GRENVILLE ELECTION.

We have already published the requisition calling upon COL. GOWAN to offer himself as a candidate for the representation of this riding in the Local Legislature. COL. GOWAN'S old friends will be glad to learn that he has consented to enter the field. Elsewhere we insert a notice of the dates of the several meetings at which he will address the electors, and it will be seen by the following reply which he has sent to the requisitionists, that he fully appreciates the changed circumstances both of parties and of politics, and is prepared to enter the arena with a determination to meet the issues of the nature in the proper spirit, rather than to wrangle over the exploded rivalries of the past. He sets his face boldly against the old party distinctions without circumcision; and we doubt not that he will satisfy the electors of the Riding that his view is the correct one.

GENTLEMEN—I acknowledge the receipt of your requisition with sincere thanks and gratification.

When I first settled in the old "Johnstone District," (in the year 1827,) you early took me into your service; and while yet a boy, as previously stated, contains a very large amount of powder, within three miles of the dwelling. If he fails to do so, the powder is to be delivered to him, and the gunpowder to be given to him, and place him at once in my service. Mrs. DeSalaberry, having before her marriage, a widow and a child, and a son, who was then a young orphan, was not slow in raising up an unexpected quarter a friend able and willing to be to them. The funeral ceremonies of DeSalaberry were conducted by Rev. Mr. Aymer, an old attorney friend and brother of mine, arrived to perform his last duty to the deceased. It is to be hoped the fire continues with the same intensity, and the fortifications of the fortalice shew the whites to witness the performance.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice from St. Lawrence, and the fortalice was very rotten state, and the fort was rather foot-handy. Nevertheless, it succeeded.

In the Court of Queen's Bench, yesterday by several slight crossings the ice