

TREASURER'S SALE
OF
LANDS for TAXES,
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,

On Wednesday, 8th January, 1868,
At Twelve O'Clock, Noon,
AT THE COURT HOUSE, IN THE CITY OF OTTAWA,
Being an Adjourned Sale from 6th December last.
Z. WILSON, Treasurer, County Carleton.

Bursaries have been founded by the University of Edinburgh. Although we have all shades of politics represented, yet I am sure I express the opinion of many when I say that the present session of Parliament is one of the most important we have had. Mr. Crawford has distinguished himself, distinguished for their efforts, will be entirely successful.

M. Bowles, the Vicar of Stanhope, who presided at a great meeting given to Mr. Crawford before and, speaking thus of our guest: "We are sorry to say, Sir, dinner, served from Mr. MacLennan's, the Scotch Hospital, in which The Duke of Roxburghe, K.T., wrote you at that our 203rd anniversary, on the 30th instant, this proposal—Our friends on the Atlantic, and Mr. Robert MacLennan, now, Mr. MacLennan, distinguished for his services to our country, in the cause of the Union when so many of us were with the Confederates in their separation. Mr. Crawford warned him of the cause of the Northern one of his many eloquent speeches—Parliament, he said: "It may be a Republican because I have no other friend of the people left through the struggle. I had faith in their destiny, and never wavered. I embraced them simply because the success of such a cause could have perpetuated the assured slavery. That system has been an otherwise fair re-union, and we have come to the United States, as it has done, to mighty powers, and fearful as the crime which that horrid traffic heralded, fearfully—awfully fearful—been. It has been to me a astonishment that so many clear-sighted Englishmen, emigrants of the Southern States, be accounted by the general English character, with right and wrong, to espouse the cause of a smaller state which shows maintaining a strangle. Gentleman elected your representative, I my office on no such tenure as mere delegate. I only expect to be representative, and to continue honorable. If I fall, it is only in the putting on your uniform, but I act the part of a mere lackey by your liver."

My claim to anything like the Mr. Brand has given me. To Indians and others, far more than the merit of commanding the British Empire University, and the noble having no similar work in the world. And in regard to my efforts in the education and upbringings of the children of the Caledonian Asylum, divers of soldiers and sailors who have been disabled or have died in the service country, I have reason to reflect upon not doing more, when I regard the size and greatness of our men as Heros Maxwell and my dear friend Mr. Brand, two of my colleagues in the most excellent charity. I have to thank Mr. Brand for the kind expression of his wishes for my success in the Parliament coming struggle, neither the time nor the place to tell, but perhaps you will understand. I do not begin with the Re-

Barney O'Reardon: the Navigator, and reads the following Poetical Selections—The Love of the World detected; The Charge of the Light of the World; The Carolean; The Bridge of the Last Day.
