How they suit for Small Engines and Printing Presses.
THOMAS WILSON, Ottawa, Feb. 20, 1888.

Messrs. McKENZIE & MACAY, Hamilton.
GENTLEMEN,—We have used your Lubricating Oil (A) on the Engine and large Hoe Press, and find it to be a better article than any we have formerly used. On the Card Press, where we formerly used olive oil, we find your oil superior to it. CHARLES W. MITCHELL, Foreman.

THOMAS WILSON, Engineer.

How they suit for Cutting Boats.
DENNIS FLEMING, Dundas, July 29, 1887.
Messrs. McKENZIE & MACAY, Hamilton.
GENTLEMEN.—I have been testing your Natural Lubricating Oil (A) and (AA) for the last few months, and have no hesitation in stating that they are the best oils used in this country for some years, and are far superior to what we have known as "Petroleum Lubricators." They are free from all gum and grit, do not stain the bearings, and are particularly adapted for lather and plating beds. The TRIBLE A OIL is especially suited for cutting heavy bolts. I have used it with the "Patent Die," which finishes the thread with one cut, and it has stood the severest test to my satisfaction.
Yours truly,
THOMAS WILSON, Foreman.

How they suit for Saw Mills.
WILLY FLAMBERG, July 27, 1887.
Messrs. McKENZIE & MACAY, 9 King-street, Hamilton.
GENTLEMEN.—I have thoroughly tested in my Saw Mill the Lubricating Oil received from you. The sample marked (AA) I think is superior to any sample of oil for saw mill machinery. The journals run with it, work longer clean, and with less friction than with any other oil I have used.
Yours respectfully,
ROBERT CHRISTIE.

Samples of the oil and numerous certificates may be seen at the office of our Agent,
