THE Hon. JAMES COCKBURN, Speaker the House of Commons, arrived yesterday. THE Privy Council sat yesterday afternoo as usual. During the session we presume th hour of meeting of the Council will be changed to I o'clock, p.m. PARLIAMENT re-assembles to-day at three o'clock. Judging from present appearances there will be but a slim attendance of men ber , though the m rning train may bring in a considerable num'e. WE understand that Mr. SANDFORD FLEN.

ING has received instructions to make further surveys of some portions of one or more of the projected routes of the Intercolonial Railway, and to report to the Government with all possible desputch.

Award the arrivals, in ablition to these previously mentioned, of members of Parlinmont, we have to record the following: H n. C. R. BILL and Hom. JOHN HOLMES, Sens-) Special to THE TIMES. tors, Nova Scotia; Hon. Mr. HAZEN, Sena tor, New Branswick; Hon. S. Milles, Sena tor, Ontario; H n. Mr. Bourisor, Senator Nova Scotia; and Messrs. Magnet, SHANLY, F. Joses, Lawson, D. A. MACDONALD, CHAR BERLAIN, J. S. R. ss, and others, members of the House of Commons.

THE following from the Halifax Chronicle of the 28th ult., is the first official, recogn tion that has come under our notice of Ma Howe's appointment on the repeal delegation to England. The story of his having accepted an engagement on one of the Lon don papers, not very probable before, may now be dismissed as a hoax:

"We are informed that the Hon. Messrs Annard and Troop, and H. W. Smith, E-q. will take passage in the mail steamer to-day for England, as the delegates, with Mr. E we, from Nova Scotia to the Imperial Government and Parliament, on the subject of a Repeal of the Confederation Act, as far a it affects Nova Scotia."

We publish this morning a letter from PETER Jack, East, Cashier of the People's Bank of Hanfay, on the important subject the currency, which appeared in the Halifax Chronicle of the 6th inst. Mr. JACK's views are entirely in accordance with those we have frequently urged through the columns of th Times, and which we believe are generally the attention which it deserves. We hope hing is being done to perfect the machinery road, His Worship has issued a proclamation that in this particular the Dominion will in Eldorado, it will require another process for a public meeting, to be held at the City conform to the standard which bids fair soon to become almost universal. Hartley, as our readers must be aware by this time, is about the greatest person that Carleton County ever sent to represent its interests in our Legislative Halls. Connell is nowhere. Lindsay is overshadowed. As for "River" statesmen, the name of Fisher is forgotten. Perley, Dow, Boveridge, Glasier, Ferris, Babbit, Butler, Thompson, Beckwith, Pickard, and the rest, hailing from the River Counties, are never mentioned. Hartley is probably the most enterprising, far-seeing, overreaching, deep, consumate, clever fellow on this Continent. The probability, therefore, of three Hartleys existing at the same time, or even within the same century, is exceedingly remote. On this the people of New Brunswick are to be congratulated, for one Hartley is about as much as we can very well bear at once. Two Hartleys might shake our Constitution to its foundations, while the weight of three Hartleys would probably knock it into small sized annihilation. Our Constitution is not proof against such "gigantick intellecks."

five-franc piece as the basis of a universal gold coinage, and gave this as a reason why the currency of Nova Scotia, the unit of which is almost identical with that coin. should be adopted for the Dominion. I now propose still further to illustrate the subject. On the 23rd December, 1865, a convention was concluded between France, Belgium Italy and Switzerland, embracing a population of 68 millions, whereby the weight, diameter, fineness and value of their coins, both gold and silver, were defined and described each country retaining its own peculiar em blems, and in some cases the name of its coins The object was to establish unity of coinage in essentials, and thus extend the circulation of their coins over the whole territory of the four States, and enable travellers to pay their way without risk or trouble from variation it exchangeable value. By this convention the double standard of gold and silver was recog nized and continued, although considerab embarrassment results from it in consequence of the more rapid production of gold than of silver. Instead of retaining the franc as the standard coin they adopted the five-france piece, starting from it upwards in gold, and downwards in a depreciated silver currency on a decimal system. Thus through a large and inficential part of Europe has been established a uniform monetary system. Since then the Pontifical States and Greece have given in their adhesion to its essential parts. In June last during the International Exhibition, a conference was held in Paris to consider the possibility and advisability still further extending the above plan. Nearthe representatives of other nations in the Exhibition manifested a lively interest in the discussions which took place. Other plans have been proposed at different times, but this is the only one which has given general satisfaction. In posed to make the coins of the United States and Great Britain uniform, by reducing the value of the half-eagle 13; cents, thus making it of the same value as the sovereign. He has now given in his adhesion to the larger sent variable currency, are in a peculiarly favorable position to adopt it, and Secretary McCulloch, in his last annual report to Congress, cordially recommended it. I have been informed that the Hon. John Sherman, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate. has either in preparation, or already prepared a Bill to give effect in the United States to the recommendations of the conference, by reducing the value, weight and fineness of their gold coins, and making the dollar of the same value as the five-franc piece. And if present political complications do not prevent it, there is every probability that the gold coins of the United States will soon be rendered equivalent to those recommended for all nations. A Bill has already been introduced inthe authorities of the mint, at Philadelphia, to strike off a coin in conformity with the re commendations of the monetary Conference the adoption of the plan proposed by the

At the next session of the Parliament of Canada a Bill will probably be introduced to assimilate the currencies of the different Provinces. It is of the utmost importance that no retrograde movement be made, but that there shall be an advance towards this gradu ally increasing wave of civilization, and also that the gold currency shall be national and not foreign. At present the currency of the Western Provinces is based on that of a foreign nation. The national gold coins have been driven out of circulation in consequence of their fractional and troublesome value, while those of the United States have taken their place. In Nova Scotia the reverse of this is the case. The national coins have driven all others out of circulation, and it is only occasionally that a foreign coin is seen. This assuredly fosters and strengthens the national Tolepo, March 11,-The damage by the feeling. Looking at the question, then, from freshet here is greater than it was at first a national point of view, there can be no doubt thought to be. Many buildings were flooded. of the superiority of the currency of Nova but it will be large. Shipping lying in winter | the fact that it so closely resembles the destined should be adopted.

It has been objected to the adoption of the sovereign as representing five dollars exactly that it would involve injustice to a larger number than the adoption of the currency of the Western Provinces would cause. The editor of the Montreal Trade Review says that "this injustice would consist in reducing, by three cents on the dollar, the value of all debts, whether expressed by mortgages, or Government securities, or any other way . . . Of course, while so many would be losers by a depreciation of the currency, a great many also would be gainers by it, and those who had payments to pay would find their payments lightened to the same extent that their creditors were losers.' Now I take it that this is all a mistake. There need not be the least deviation from strict principles of justice. Whether the system in use in Nova Scotia or that of the other Provinces is extended, there will be temporary inconvenience to one sec-DAVENPORT, Iowa, March 11 .- The Chicago | tion or the other, but there should be neither under the currency to be changed shall be Rock Island, ILL., March 11 .- Two-thirds | paid in their equivalent value in the new one. of the city is flooded by an ice gorge below. | and tables of equivalent values should be pub-The arsenal bridge was carried away and much lished. This was the course pursued in France when the franc was substituted for the old French livre at the beginning of the present century, and quite recently in the Boman States. In 1834 Congress reduced the value and even then Mr. Ruggles says, in the report but one champion - that name, that person is $5,500 in 5-20 bonds, and $300 worth of silver already alluded to, Lo practical inconvenience was experienced. The prices of all articles of merchandize also would be speed. ily accommodated to the changed values of the coins in circulation.

Another objection has been made, that in case of a run upon the Banks, such as took place some time since in the Upper Provinces. it would be impossible to obtain a supply stated that at the recent monetary convention sovereigns in time to meet the emergency in Paris it had been decided to recommend the But this difficulty could be easily overcome by continuing the gold coins of the United States as a legal tender, the same as they are at present; the only change being that the oreign coin-that of the United States, would be the fractional one, while the national one -the sovereign, would be evenly expressed in our money of account, thus reversing the onditions under which these coins row cirulate. The difficulty might also be got over to a considerable extent by the establishnent of a mint in Halifax where the gold drawn from her mines, (the yield of which is continually increasing as skill and capital are now largely employed in their development) instead of being shipped abroad, could be at nce converted into sovereigns, and in this way a constant supply kept up. Although this letter has extended farther than I intended, allow me. Mr. Elitor, to bserve in conclusion that if Nova Scotia compelled to change her currency, which prings into circulation all the different coins of the fatherland, for that of the other parts of Canada, which practically excludes them, will be the forcing of her backward from the vantage ground she now occupies to a financiers of the fatherland a practical solution whereby the ties which unite fatherland and | $24.45 @ 24.62 for New Mess; $23.40 @ colony would be strengthened and consolidat- | 23.60 for Old do.
