Oca Halifax correspondent has sent us a that the WILKINS' Cabinet is disposed to make itself as disagreeable as possible. As an exhibition of small Provincial impertinence, we presume the refusal to republish the Governoz-General's proclamation will be allowed to pass, because the matter to which it relates is of comparatively small importance. But as the proclamation itself was merely of an advisory character we should have imagined that respect for the source whence it emanated-the represen requisite. We shall state a few of the difficu tative of Royalty in this Dominion-would have saved it from studied insult.

The first anniversary of the formation of the Dominion of Canada is naturally sugges-CONSORT said that " the system of constitu-"tional Government was on its trial," he was learnedly and lengthily on the profound im port of the saying. But, in sober truth, all forms of Government are "on trial." Whether Autocratic, Democratic, or mixed, the "form" of Government is liable be upset by the rude shocks of revolution, or more slowly, but no less surely, metamorphosed by the constant action of the tide of popular teeling which batters unceasingly at the walls, even of the most history, in making an impression:

The Rifles and 43rd were brigaded together, and put through a variety of evolutions which were executed in a very creditable manner. With the exception o some trifling mistakes here and there, all went off well. The 43rd are a really fine body men, and a little care, with a real desire to excel, would enable them to compare favorably with any body of soldiers on this continent. The Civil Service Rifles presented a fine milltary appearance, and clearly evinced in their evolutions and general bearing, the continued exertions of Col. Wily, and indeed all the officers, as well as the rank and file, to make the Civil Service Regiment the elite of the volunteer service. The volunteers were reviewed on this occasion by Col. London, June 30 .- The debate on the Irish Church Appointments Suspensory Bill was continued in the House of Lords last night. The public interest was unabated, and the crowds on the floor and in the galleries were greater than on the two previous nights of the debate. It was generally expected that a division would take place during the sitting. Their royal Highnesses the Prince of Wales and Prince Alfred were present. The Duke of Argyle made a speech in support of the Suspensory Bill, strongly urging the immediate passage of the Bill. He said it was to DOMINION DAY, JULY 1st, be regretted that the Royal Commissioners on the Irish Church had as yet made no report, as | 1868, by the splendid new and favorite Steamer be was sure that among their recommendations there would be one for a reduction in the number of appointments in the Irish Church.
