THE LIEUTENANT - GOVERNOR'S LEVEE.

Sir Narcisse P. Belleau held a levee in the St. Lawrence Hall at noon yesterday. The Hon. Mr. Chauveau, Premier, and several other ministers were present in attendance. This office levee is the first of the kind since the late Lieutenant-Governor's death. The Hon. Mr. Belleau was introduced almost immediately thereafter by Mr. Chauveau and proceeded through his President, Mr. C. A. Isham, to present to the assembly a resolution in his honor upon the occasion of his elevation to the responsible position of Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Canada.

SERIOUS FIRE IN MONTREAL.

Three Prize Horses Burned. About a quarter to twelve o'clock on Tuesday p.m., the alarm sounded from box No. 8, in the neighborhood of the Hotel de la Paix, No. 1, St. Joseph-st. A high wind was blowing at the time and a few minutes after the discovery of the fire it had spread from the premises of the Hotel de la Paix, No. 1, St. Joseph-st., and was rapidly seizing the surrounding wooden buildings when the reels arrived on the ground. The fire spread with great rapidity and in a few minutes the flames were seen to rise in a column of smoke in the air where they were caught by the strong wind and blown about the other buildings in a manner which threatened their instant destruction. The fire was extinguished by the firemen, but the damage done was considerable. The fire was caused by a gas lamp which had been overturned and the gas had ignited.

breakers, and will then be ready for "cocking" the intruders. By a simple arrangement of valves the "cock" will sink sufficiently to let the vessel to be fixed on the cradle another set of valves will let the water out, as in an ordinary graving dock. To secure the necessary buoyancy when vessels of enormous tonnage are to be raised, the dry dock is provided with two iron caissons, which, being fore and aft, will raise it to any required altitude.

MAIL DATES SEPTEMBER 6.

The rupture of the negotiations between Prussia and Holland relative to the navigation of the Rhine appears to have caused some alarm in Berlin, where the determination shown by the Dutch Government in the matter is attributed to a policy secretly supported by France. The point in dispute is whether the new convention which is proposed to establish in place of those now in existence, is to apply to the whole of the river and its tributaries, or only to the streams on the other side of Gorkum and Dordrecht. The Dutch Government considers that the Morwede and the Meuse being part of the Rhine, the navigation of those rivers ought to be under its exclusive control. This view is opposed on behalf of the Zollverein, and the treaty of Vienna, which stipulates that the navigation of the Rhine shall be free to the sea. As this is the first occasion on which Prussia has acted as the representative of the Zollverein, it is believed that she will not allow the matter to drop, but make further and more urgent representations to Holland on the subject.

One of the most eccentric articles that Emile de Girardin ever wrote, appears in the Liberte. He says that the Emperor is the "best-intentioned man in the world, but never knows what he is doing, and that is the reason why, while the Emperor merits all praise, the Empire deserves all blame. The Emperor, he says, stupefies himself with tobacco, and while he is smoking he "dreams" that France is great, and that he is necessary to the greatness of France; that he believes that those about him tell him, and fancies himself that he is intended to be the saviour of the world. The coup d'etat of December 2, was wholly unnecessary; but the Emperor risked it because he bona fide believed he could do great things. But he was under a delusion; he is utterly incapable of finding the means to achieve the things he dreams of, and too jealous to trust power to a great minister. There is much more to the same effect, but this is the substance of the whole article.

The Italian journals state that King Victor Emmanuel lately had a narrow escape while shooting in the mountains at Valderi. When in pursuit of a chamois, and at the moment he was surmounting a rock, a portion of the latter gave way, and his Majesty would have infallibly fallen over a precipice if a peasant had not lent him assistance.

The Italian journals contain an account of a Garibaldian "demonstration" at Palermo. A reactionary paper of that city recently published some insulting remarks upon Garibaldi which appear to have given great offence to some of the inhabitants. Accordingly a number of ex-Garibaldians and other persons proceeded to the office of the paper and raised vigorous cheers to the General, together with shouts of "Death to the priests!" "Down with the Pope!" and so on. Some of the young men then entered the office, and meeting with no opposition upset the types, seized all the copies of the obnoxious publication they could find, and made them into a bonfire. Before the police came the rioters had terminated their demonstration and quietly dispersed.

The Ottawa Times

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1868. For markets see Fourth Page.

THERE was a lengthy meeting of the Privy Council yesterday afternoon.

It is understood that in a few weeks a delegation will proceed to England, on the part of the Government of Canada, to make the final arrangements for the transfer of the Northwest Territory to the Dominion. The MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS, who has taken a lively interest in this question, will, no doubt, be a member of this delegation; and it is expected that the Government will make the affair to Parliament at the beginning of the next Session.

The meeting yesterday on the matter of furnishing relief to the Red River settlers was certainly not all that could have been desired. However, a good beginning was made in the way of a subscription, and we hope that it will be followed up immediately, not merely by leaving subscription lists at certain designated points, but by a prompt and concerted canvass of the city. That after all is the proper way to bring out the liberality of the citizens, and unless we have somebody amongst us, who will, of their own good nature, undertake the duty of canvassing for subscriptions, we really fear that the business begun yesterday afternoon will be imperfectly carried through.

We understand that the Dominion Government, taking into account the distressed state of the settlers in the Red River country, have resolved upon furnishing some practical relief by presenting the construction of the road from Fort Gary Eastward, so that next spring a connection may be made with the road being constructed from Thunder Bay, by direction of the Public Works Department, under the superintendence of Mr. DAWSON. This is a very creditable move on the part of the Government, and will, we are sure, be productive of the most satisfactory results. It is creditable to the Department of Public Works that this work has been suggested, and is being carried out at the present crisis in the affairs of the settlers in the Red River country.

We understand that Messrs. J. M. FERRES, T. J. O'NEIL, and Dr. TASSÉ have been appointed Penitentiary Directors under the Act passed last Session of Parliament. These gentlemen have all acquired a large amount of experience in the discharge of their duties as Prison Inspectors in the old Province of Canada, and the public, therefore, can have the fullest confidence that they bring to the discharge of their duties a matured experience, which, in addition to their acknowledged ability, will make them thoroughly competent to fulfil in a manner satisfactory to the country at large, and in the best interests of the inmates of the institutions over which they are called upon to preside.

It is more than possible that the new Board of Penitentiary Directors will miss the eminent services of Dr. MEREDITH, who has devoted so much attention to the subject, of prison discipline and kindred matters. But the change in our constitution, transferring the jurisdiction over the county prisons to the several Local Governments, having so much reduced the duties and responsibilities of the Prison Inspectors, necessitated such a reduction in the number of the Board as has been made by the new Act; and, therefore, Mr. MEREDITH, having other duties to perform, was not improperly left out. Messrs. FERRES, O'NEIL, and TASSÉ have already an established reputation for thorough competency in the discharge of their onerous duties; and we may say that not only here, but even in the Old World, their services in the cause of prison discipline have received the most flattering notice.

The Editor of the Citizen has read us a serious lecture on the proprieties. Our crime has been, that in return for a bit of puffery, directed personally at the Editor of the TIMES, we congratulated our neighbour on his having secured the services of the Editor of the Liberte. There are only two ways of dealing with persons of this kind in silence—and on that occasion we adopted the former, and made use of language which the Editor of the Citizen, had he read it carefully, would have seen might have better been applied to himself than to an obscure gentleman whose name he is pleased to lug into the controversy. The Citizen should remember also that the serious side of the discussion arose from our assailing his unwarranted use of the name of a gentleman who is not a journalist, on the mere supposition that he had inspired an attack upon a deserving public officer. Why did he then go behind the scenes to drag in the name of a gentleman far less amenable to criticism than any "unattached" writer? How is it that the Citizen can be so sensitive when its own (or its friend's) corus are remotely threatened with a little pressure, when it can without a qualm of conscience come down "flat-footed," and without any apparent reason, upon those of other people? It is this having two measures for manners—one for itself and another for other people—that we have been trying to persuade the Citizen to abandon.

DISTURBANCE IN THE RED RIVER SETTLEMENT.

The meeting called by His Worship the Mayor to take measures for assisting the destitute settlers in the Red River country was held in the City Hall yesterday afternoon. His Worship the Mayor occupied the chair, and explained the reasons which led him to call the meeting.

After a brief conversational discussion the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Moved by Mr. Stragge, seconded by H. H. McGreevy, Esq., that the destitution and famine which threaten the people of the Red River country having been brought prominently before the people of Ottawa and vicinity, this meeting feel it a duty and privilege to assist in alleviating the misfortune under which they are suffering.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Stragge, seconded by Wm. Yess, Esq., that a subscription list be opened for the purpose of raising money for the relief of the destitute settlers in the Red River country, and that subscription lists be placed at the Merchant's Hotel, Russell House, Bevers House, Mr. Hope's and Mr. Durie's bookstores.

Moved by H. H. McGreevy, Esq., seconded by Mr. Stragge, that the names of the different city churches be called upon to make special collections from their several congregations, and that meeting is also directed to request the Government of the Dominion an anxious hope that some effectual aid may be extended by it to the suffering people of the Red River settlement.

The subscription list was then made out, and some four hundred and seventy-five dollars entered thereon. We hope the citizens will respond liberally to this call made upon their generosity. The notion of leaving subscription lists at certain designated points is a very absurd one, and will be productive of no good. These lists should be taken round by influential parties, when we are sure that our citizens will subscribe liberally; but if left in the slipshod manner decided upon at the meeting, we doubt but that the subscription list will be a disgrace to Ottawa.

For fully five minutes the heavy, rolling, rumbling sound continued, rocking the furniture, and even the houses themselves, with an incessant and fearful vibration. It was their feet, and an instantaneous rash was made for the street. Here the sight beggared description; all the afflicted people, kneeling and praying in the open street, crossing themselves, and falling in deep swoons full length on the pavement; old women kneeling with both arms upraised, screaming and crying; the great bell of St. Anne's church tolling and tolling, while the terrified people fled in crowds within the sacred inclosure, and the great steeple swayed and cracked as if every moment it would fall upon and crush the afflicted masses. As far as the eye could see the long, narrow street, the very street level rose and fell in long billowy undulations, while the bay ships tossed up and down under the violence of the tremendous sea.
