

the centre of a happy family circle. But I was called to the New Brunswick bar in 1840, a series of misfortunes came and left her hopeless and aimless. The epidemic of 1855 deprived her of her husband and two of her children. Of her two remaining sons, one was killed in the army, and the other, about a year since was arraigned before this same court for murder. Before this awful shock the mother's reason reeled and left her a harmless maniac. Since then she each day imagines her son on trial, and watches there for his coming. Day after day she prosecutes in the courtroom her tireless watch. Disappointment never affects her, for she thinks she will see him to-morrow. Those who have charge of her gratify the harmless delusion, and thus morning and evening she is found at her post, influenced by an affection that defies the flight and wreck of reason.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Action Sale—J. Birmingham.
Union Mutual Life Insurance Co.—B. R. Corwin.

Mail Co tract—John Dewe.
St. Lawrence Dye Works—Macdonald & Co.
St. Wood for Sale—Francis Clemon.
Government Notice—W. H. Lee.
Grand Hall—No. 1 Sapperton.
Intercolonial Railway—Sandford Fleming.
N. W. Good—Variety Hall.

The Ottawa Times
Office 38, Sparks Street.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1868.

For Ottawa Markets see Fourth Page.

There was a meeting of the Privy Council yesterday afternoon.

Hon. Mr. CHAPIN left for Quebec yesterday, and Hon. Mr. MITCHELL will probably go down to New Brunswick at the end of the week.

All the members of the Privy Council now here, will endeavor, if possible, to reach Quebec in time to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. LANGSTON on Thursday.

The following judicial appointments for the Province of Ontario have been approved by the Privy Council:

The Hon. W. B. RICHARDS, Chief-Judge of the Common Pleas, to be Chief-Judge of the Queen's Bench, in the place of Hon. W. H. DRAKE, C.B., appointed to the Presidency of the Court of Error and Appeal.

The Hon. J. C. HAGARTY, Judge of Queen's Bench, to be Chief-Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in the place of Chief-Judge RICHARDS.

The Hon. CHIEF-JUSTICE will both be sworn in Lord MONCK at Quebec during the present week.

The Hon. Judge ADAM WILSONS, of the Common Pleas, will be transferred to the Queen's Bench in the place of Judge HAGARTY; and

JOHN W. GWINNE, Esq., Q.C., will be appointed to the Common Pleas in the place of Judge A. WILSON.

The Courts will open as thus re-organized next term, which begins on the 16th inst.

These appointments will, no doubt, meet with universal approbation. The order of preference is such as is warranted alike by the experience and ability of the gentlemen promoted, while the elevation of Mr. GWINNE to the Bench will be regarded as a deserved reward for distinguished professional ability.

The Red River Relief Fund account is now closed for this city, and the result—stated elsewhere—is one upon which we can cordially congratulate the city. Ottawa has acted nobly in this matter; and we think the Queen's Bank deserves especial praise for having accepted so large an amount of silver—$500—per par, which is but another way of saying that the bank added some twenty dollars or thereabouts to the subscription.

This reached the city yesterday that the mother of the Hon. Mr. LANGSTON, Secretary of State, who had been ailing for some time, died at Quebec on Sunday. The Hon. Mr. LANGSTON has been at Quebec for some days, having gone down when he heard of his mother's serious illness. The funeral of the late Mr. LANGSTON will take place on Thursday, and we understand that the members of the Privy Council will endeavor to be present.

We regret to hear that the Hon. J. M. JOHNSON, M. P. for the County of Northumberland, N. B., died at his residence, Charlton, on Sunday last, after a severe illness of some weeks' duration. The deceased was justly regarded in the sister Province as one of the ablest public men of his day, foremost at the bar, and one of the ablest speakers in their Legislature; quick at repartee, a master of sarcastic oratory, and capable above his peers of tearing an opponent's argument to tatters. He bore his part in bringing about Confederation, having been one of the Delegates representing New Brunswick at the Lévis Conference. At the subsequent general election, Mr. JOHNSON received a renewal of the confidence of his old constituents, and was sent to Ottawa as the representative of the County of Northumberland in the House of Commons. We can hardly say that when here he fulfilled the expectations which the brilliant success of his previous career had excited. He seldom brought his more solid qualities of mind to the discussion of the many important subjects that passed under review, having given way too much to his peacock for running and passing off humours upon the House, some of which would, doubtless, have formed an admirable garniture to a serious argument; but most of them appearing rather trifling as the staple oratory of a man of much distinction and acknowledged ability. As a companion, he was genial to a fault, and his inexhaustible fund of rich and ready anecdote, generally made him the centre of attraction in any social gathering of which he formed a part. Much sympathy will be felt by those who had the pleasure of making his acquaintance here at his comparatively early doom; while in his own Province his loss will be mourned as that of one of its greatest public men, and most accomplished barristers.

John MERCER JOHNSON (as we learn from Morgan's Parliamentary Companion) was born at Liverpool, England, in the year 1818, and came to America with his parents at an early age, his father settling at Miramichi and afterwards becoming Sheriff of the County of Northumberland. Mr. JOHNSON had a series of misfortunes and a series of successes, and rapidly rose to distinction, his extraordinary memory, quickness of perception and thorough command of language enabling him to take a front rank almost at the beginning of his career. He entered public life as member for Northumberland in 1850, for which constituency he continued to sit until 1855, when he was killed in the army, and the other, about a year since was arraigned before this same court for murder. Before this awful shock the mother's reason reeled and left her a harmless maniac. Since then she each day imagines her son on trial, and watches there for his coming. Day after day she prosecutes in the courtroom her tireless watch. Disappointment never affects her, for she thinks she will see him to-morrow. Those who have charge of her gratify the harmless delusion, and thus morning and evening she is found at her post, influenced by an affection that defies the flight and wreck of reason.

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.
Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.
Ballin, November 1, 1868.

Grand Concert at Her Majesty's Theatre

This evening at 8 o'clock.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run by the battalion seems to exist. That, however, is not the case: as they were "got up" solely by the officers of No. 1 Company, the conditions were so bountiful, that they (the Battalion) did not get up one.

Battalion and one All-Comers' Match, thus exhibiting that kindly feeling which should exist amongst all volunteers.

To conclude, we may just state that should our company ever be called upon to meet the demands of the Battalion, we shall be worthy of the trust and ready to do our duty.

We have the honor to be, sir,

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.

Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.

Ballin, November 1, 1868.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run by the battalion seems to exist. That, however, is not the case: as they were "got up" solely by the officers of No. 1 Company, the conditions were so bountiful, that they (the Battalion) did not get up one.

Battalion and one All-Comers' Match, thus exhibiting that kindly feeling which should exist amongst all volunteers.

To conclude, we may just state that should our company ever be called upon to meet the demands of the Battalion, we shall be worthy of the trust and ready to do our duty.

We have the honor to be, sir,

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.

Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.

Ballin, November 1, 1868.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run by the battalion seems to exist. That, however, is not the case: as they were "got up" solely by the officers of No. 1 Company, the conditions were so bountiful, that they (the Battalion) did not get up one.

Battalion and one All-Comers' Match, thus exhibiting that kindly feeling which should exist amongst all volunteers.

To conclude, we may just state that should our company ever be called upon to meet the demands of the Battalion, we shall be worthy of the trust and ready to do our duty.

We have the honor to be, sir,

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.

Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.

Ballin, November 1, 1868.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run by the battalion seems to exist. That, however, is not the case: as they were "got up" solely by the officers of No. 1 Company, the conditions were so bountiful, that they (the Battalion) did not get up one.

Battalion and one All-Comers' Match, thus exhibiting that kindly feeling which should exist amongst all volunteers.

To conclude, we may just state that should our company ever be called upon to meet the demands of the Battalion, we shall be worthy of the trust and ready to do our duty.

We have the honor to be, sir,

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.

Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.

Ballin, November 1, 1868.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run by the battalion seems to exist. That, however, is not the case: as they were "got up" solely by the officers of No. 1 Company, the conditions were so bountiful, that they (the Battalion) did not get up one.

Battalion and one All-Comers' Match, thus exhibiting that kindly feeling which should exist amongst all volunteers.

To conclude, we may just state that should our company ever be called upon to meet the demands of the Battalion, we shall be worthy of the trust and ready to do our duty.

We have the honor to be, sir,

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.

Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.

Ballin, November 1, 1868.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run by the battalion seems to exist. That, however, is not the case: as they were "got up" solely by the officers of No. 1 Company, the conditions were so bountiful, that they (the Battalion) did not get up one.

Battalion and one All-Comers' Match, thus exhibiting that kindly feeling which should exist amongst all volunteers.

To conclude, we may just state that should our company ever be called upon to meet the demands of the Battalion, we shall be worthy of the trust and ready to do our duty.

We have the honor to be, sir,

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.

Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.

Ballin, November 1, 1868.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run by the battalion seems to exist. That, however, is not the case: as they were "got up" solely by the officers of No. 1 Company, the conditions were so bountiful, that they (the Battalion) did not get up one.

Battalion and one All-Comers' Match, thus exhibiting that kindly feeling which should exist amongst all volunteers.

To conclude, we may just state that should our company ever be called upon to meet the demands of the Battalion, we shall be worthy of the trust and ready to do our duty.

We have the honor to be, sir,

CAPTAIN CORBETT,
Comd. No. 1, Com. 42nd Batt.—Treaser.

Signed on behalf of the Officers of No. 1, Compt. 42nd Batt.

Ballin, November 1, 1868.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Yours obedient servant,

Mr. George Arnold, pair of pants, value $3.50, given as 5th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Mr. John Illingworth, fancy flannel shirt, value $2.50, given as part of 4th prize in All-Comers' Match.

Misses S. & C. Boulting, satchel, value $2, given as 6th prize in All-Comers' Match.

A belief that the matches were being run