FROM TORONTO.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

2nd Session: 1st Legislative Assembly.
Special to THE TIMES.

TORONTO, November 30.

The House to-night received seven petitions in aid of superior education; nine against the granting of aid to sectarian colleges; and four for the disendowment of the Upper Canada College.

The tenth report of the committee on standing orders was referred back with instructions to increase the number of bills allowed to each member.

The second report of the committee on private bills was concurred in.

The Attorney-General introduced a Bill to amend chapter 15 of the consolidated statutes respecting county courts.

Mr. Blake asked to have the Bill on the law of dower, which by mistake passed a third reading on Friday night, brought back, for further consideration, as he had missed an opportunity of moving an amendment, through the understanding that the Attorney-General had promised to hold it over to Tuesday.

The application was refused.

Mr. Blake moved for an address to the Lieutenant-Governor for copies of correspondence with judges on the law of evidence.

The Attorney-General moved an address of congratulation to His Excellency the Governor-General, Sir John Young, which was carried unanimously. He then moved the appointment of a deputation, consisting of Messrs. Wood, R. W. Scott, R. Lyons, Cumberland, Smith, Perry, Galbraith, Evans and the mover, to present it, which was also carried.

Mr. Blake moved for a select committee to consider the expediency of amending the rules of the House, by establishing a longer interval between the stages of bills.—Carried.

Mr. Blake moved the second reading of the Homestead Bill.

The Attorney-General said when free grants were adopted the people laughed at him for not applying the Homestead Bill to the whole Province, instead of only Muskoka. Now not a single petition for the passage of the Bill was presented. If the Bill passed the House would be flooded with petitions for its abolition.

After considerable discussion the Bill was read a second time and referred to the committee on municipal and assessment laws.

The accounts of 1867 were referred to the committee on public accounts.

Mr. Clark moved the second reading of the Bill to repeal the tax on dogs, which was carried, and the Bill referred to a select committee.

Mr. Oliver moved the second reading of the Bill on gratuitous loans. A man might now borrow goods, and refuse to re-deliver them, and there was no remedy except to replevin them.

The Attorney-General strongly opposed the Bill, saying it was in effect going back to imprisonment for debt. He moved a six months' hoist, which was carried.

Hon. Mr. Richard's Mining Bill was postponed till to-morrow.

The School Bill was then read a second time, and referred to a select committee.

The House then rose.

SECOND DESPATCH.

The Dominion Telegraph Company—St. Andrew's Day—Robbery—Recovery of Mr. Wallis—Recorder Duggan to be Judge, &c., &c.

Special to THE TIMES.

TORONTO, November 30.

Chief-Justice Hagarty, Judges Wilson and Morrison left to-day for Ottawa to swear in the Governor-General.

The Whelan case is consequently formally remanded to Friday.

Over a score of men are busy here putting up poles for the Dominion Telegraph Company's wires.

This being St. Andrew's Day a large procession, headed by Highland pipers, paraded the streets. The annual ball of the St. Andrew's Society will be held to-night.

A man called at the police station this morning and said his house was robbed the previous evening of £2,000. As he left neither his name nor address the story is doubted.

Mr. Wallis, the city member, is rapidly recovering his sight. He expects to be able to attend his place in the House shortly.

It is said positively that Recorder Duggan will be County Judge on the abolition of the Recorder's Court.

The Evening Telegraph is to be enlarged to the same size as the morning edition.

THIRD DESPATCH.

The Nova Scotia Controversy.

Special to THE TIMES.

TORONTO, November 30.

The Halifax Journal of Saturday publishes letters from Mr. Annand and Mr. Howe. Mr. Annand says Mr. Howe's letters can have no possible result except to give aid and comfort to the enemy. Looking at the question in the abstract, he says that a great party was formed, embracing 17 out of 19 members in one House, and 26 out of 38 members in the other—gentlemen enjoying the largest possible share of the public confidence—had chosen a leader. These gentlemen meet in convention, and after a discussion of public questions, lasting four or five days, resolutions are passed pledging the convention to pursue a certain policy. Then the convention separates for two or three months; after which the leader, without consultation or authority, enters into negotiation with the enemy, before the convention policy has been tried. "Can any one fancy an act more outrageous or more insulting to a body of high-spirited gentlemen on the part of their chief." This is precisely Howe's position. If he had no faith in repeal, or appeal to the new Parliament, why allow resolutions to pass, and continue agitation with the protest. As regards the situation the English press speak more favorably than does Howe. Mr. Bright will likely be Colonial Secretary; if so, repealers will be pretty sure to win.

Mr. Howe's letter is a very able one, and reviews sixteen points established in the course of the controversy; and goes on to say that it is true the great party was at the last election shaken to its centre by these disclosures. But who is to blame? At the election annexation was not on their banners. It has now been preached three months under the patronage of the Government. This was sufficient to cause him to separate from them. Had Wilkins and Annand joined hands to filibuster, and set the Government at defiance, he could have admired their courage at all events; but when at the first calm glance of the eye the soldiers backed down in their boots, he no longer felt it any honor to lead or fight under two such champions who had disgraced all by this display of their strategy and courage. At the same time the annexationists were sincere, and believed there was a prospect, however remote. But now not three men in the Council, nor ten in the Legislature, have the slightest hopes that Gladstone would turn round for repeal. He had been asked why not propose something. All he could suggest would be to write to Garvie, "N. S. gentleman in London," instructing him to enquire at the Colonial Office, what had become of the resolutions passed in council, and sent home; whether any answer to them will be sent. See Bright, and ask him to go to Gladstone, and enquire if the latter had changed his opinion, and was prepared to recommend repeal. He might also ask the Premier if he were inclined to sell Nova Scotia to the United States, or permit annexation. If this is done, he will drop the correspondence with the Canadians until the reply is received. Let the controversy cease in the meantime, and if the answers were unfavorable his action would be justified. It otherwise he will confess error, and submit to the condemnation of the country. As to the practical question, "What is to be done now with the party in office?" he would say leave them quietly in office. He wished to put an end to the nonsense of crying for repeal; if his suggestions are acted on, the country will get on solid ground shortly. Mr. Howe promises he will not write again unless the necessity is urgent.

CARPETS AND HOUSE FURNISHINGS.—Parties about to furnish will find a large and choice assortment of carpetings and house furnishings, cheap, at Garland, Mutchmor & Co's. Carpets made and laid with despatch.

FROM MONTREAL.

Special to THE TIMES.

MONTREAL, November 30.

The banquet of the St. Andrew's Society was a grand affair. Over 300 ladies and gentlemen were present. Mr. Robertson, President, occupied the chair, supported by the Hon. Thos. Ryan, M.P., Thos. Workman, Prof. Dawson, representatives of national societies, and the Rev. Messrs. Taylor, Irvine, Cochrane, Gibson, Douglas, &c., &c. There was an excellent bill of fare, and the haggis received due honors. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts were given. Prof. Dawson responded to, "The Day and a' who Honor" Rev. G. Douglas to "The Dominion of Canada," most eloquently. "The poets and poetry of Scotland" was drank in solemn silence in respect to the memory of the late Mr. McGee, who had on many occasions responded to it. In a brilliant speech the Rev. Mr. Cochrane paid a fitting tribute to the lamented statesman. Mr. Workman responded to our city members; Senator Ryan to our guests; and John Leming to "Sister Societies." Several other toasts received due honors, and at half-past 12 o'clock the proceedings closed with "Auld Lang Syne" and the national anthem. In the course of the evening greetings were sent and received from Chicago, New York, Detroit, Sarnia, Toronto, Belleville, and other places. A deputation was sent to the Mess of the 78th Highlanders, who were also honoring the day by a banquet, and they in turn sent Capt. McKenzie and other officers to the St. Andrew's banquet with hearty greetings, and an invitation to the President to finish off the evening with them. The band of the 60th Rifles, and the pipers of the 78th Highlanders, were present.

The present unnecessary delay in the Whelan case causes much remark, and an opinion is reported that the Government is conniving at his escape, as it is now well known that it is impossible for the execution to take place on the day fixed. It seems that the argument in plea does not take place until Friday next, and goodness knows how long after that before the judges give their decision.

Judge Smith died yesterday, aged 62 years. He had retired on a pension but a few months ago.

Markets very dull. Prices unchanged.

CABLE NEWS.

YESTERDAY'S DESPATCHES.

PARIS, November 28.—The editor of the Reveil has been sentenced to two months imprisonment with a fine of 2000 francs. The editors of the Tribune and Lavenier are to pay a fine of 2000 francs each, and the editors of the Temps and Journal de Paris to pay a fine of 1000 francs each, for publishing articles encouraging the subscription for the monument to Bondin.

BUCHAREST, November 28.—Prince Charles of Roumania, in opening the Chambers, said the maintenance of neutrality was a duty which his government had always observed. The foreign relations of the country were on excellent footing, and he had reason to believe pending negotiations would result in satisfactory conventions with Austria and Prussia.

LONDON, November 29.—The Conservatives have carried the southeast division of the east riding of Yorkshire; also the western division of Surrey, thus reducing the Liberal majority four members.

The results of a majority of the latter elections have been in favour of the Conservatives, who have always had disproportionate strength in the counties. Their gains in the present instances are also undoubtedly attributable to the indifference of the Liberals, who were rendered careless by the heavy majority they had secured during the first week of the elections. In the manufacturing districts the bitter spirit of the Orange organization was enlisted against candidates who favoured disestablishment. The entrance of this element into the strife did not fail in some quarters to lead to mob law, and the intimidation of voters. The Tories are charged with responsibility for these excesses, and the Liberal party has suffered so severely from them that it has become almost a unit in favour of voting by ballot. Much indignation has been caused among British shipowners by a rumour that the Alabama treaty does not allow the claims of Englishmen, based on decisions of American prize courts, to be reopened before the commission.

The Shipping Gazette says such a provision is contrary to precedents established by the Americans themselves, and excludes claims undoubtedly well founded; and the Gazette declares if the report be true the convention is a capitulation, and Parliament will never sanction it.

A writer in the Observer takes the same view.

The London Times, and Paris correspondents of other London papers, have lately given currency to the rumours that the health of Napoleon is failing, and public confidence has in consequence been somewhat disturbed. These rumours have been officially contradicted from Paris, yet it is well understood that without positive illness the Emperor declines to take his usual active exercise, and shows signs of a decline in strength, and consequent mental apathy. The policy of his Government seems just now to be to make a demonstration of vigour against the Opposition, to render the latter unpopular, and to preserve the morale of department officials.

LONDON, November 29.—Apprehensions of bloodshed in Spain are increasing. It is thought that a collision between the monarchists and republicans will be the inevitable result of the excited political contest now in progress. Meantime the patriotic spirit of the nation is unabated.

A despatch from Madrid states that subscriptions by the people to the national loan now amount to 319,000,000 reals.

VIENNA, November 29.—The Austrian Government has despatched from Trieste an expedition which will sail around the world. It is under command of Karl Sherzer. The objects of the enterprise are to introduce the products of Austrian industry into distant countries, and extend the commerce of the Empire. The expedition is under special instructions to visit the principal ports of China and Japan, and to proceed thence to California, and to cruise along the South American coast.

PARIS, November 29.—M. Pierre Antoine Berayer, the celebrated advocate, died yesterday, aged 78 years.

Senor Olozaga has arrived in Paris as the ambassador of Spain.

MADRID, November 29.—Great republican demonstrations were made here at the close of last week. The young men of the city held a meeting, and amid indescribable enthusiasm passed resolutions protesting against the rule excluding all persons under 25 years of age from the franchise. People, to the number of fifteen thousand crowded the square, where the meeting was held, and every allusion made by speakers to a republic was cheered with tremendous applause.

LISBON, November 29.—South American news states that the Brazilians have sent a column of 12,000 men to Gran Chaco forest, to attack the position of Lopez at Villetta in flank. Marquis de Caxias was awaiting the development of this flank movement to attack the river batteries with his fleet of iron-clads and force communication with the army in the Gran Chaco.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

LONDON, November 30.—The Times of this morning comments with wonder on the rapid progress of the Pacific railroad. It notes the extraordinary features of the road, and commends the enterprise of the Americans in overcoming obstacles heretofore deemed insurmountable. It explains the influence this great project will exercise on the commerce of the world.

LONDON, November 30.—Earl Russel has written a letter expressing his regret at the defeat of Messrs. Howell and Odger, and other candidates of the workingmen.

DUBLIN, November 29.—The nomination of Mr. O'Connor for member of Parliament from Sligo county, was seconded by Rev. Mr. Conway, a Catholic priest, who in his speech on the occasion, said the Fenians in America were strongest in members, organization, and armament than ever, and should the rights to Ireland be withheld they would act at once, and on landing all Ireland would join them.

LONDON, November 30.—It is creditably stated that the Emperor Napoleon is suffering from an attack of diabetes, that he cannot give his full attention to business, and that the Empress takes daily a larger share in the details of the administration, relieving the Emperor of many of his burdens.

Coughs and Colds.—Sudden changes of climate are sources of Pulmonary Bronchial and Asthmatic affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges. Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough, or "common cold," in its first stage. That which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, allay irritation which induces coughing, having a DIRECT influence on the affected parts. As there are imitations, be sure TO OBTAIN the genuine. Sold by all dealers in medicines, at 25 cents a box.
