

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Civil Service Rifles Regiment—W. B. Lindsay.
Great Bankrupt Sale—Sheffield House.
Dog Found—F. McCaffrey.
Note of Hand Stolen—Robert Hamilton.

The Ottawa Times
Office 34, Sparks Street.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1869.

For Ottawa Markets see Fourth Page.

We understand that several of the principal officials in the Crown Lands Department of Ontario have been relieved of the care of office, and permitted to retire on one year's salary. It may be remembered that $20,000 was appropriated for gratuities to public officers whose services might be dispensed with, and if this appropriation is exhausted within the year, the "decapitating" process will assuredly go beyond the Crown Lands Department.

We are glad to understand that a preliminary survey of the section of the "Canada Central Railway" between this city and Vandreuil is now on foot. On the other section, that between Ottawa and Carlton Place, some progress is being made towards construction, tenders for the performance of such work as can be most conveniently done during the winter months having been invited. Editors are also being made to secure the right of way for the whole line hence to Carleton Place. We had the pleasure of announcing on a former occasion that many parties had offered to give their lands free for this purpose, in the neighbourhood of Ottawa, and we trust that a like spirit of generosity will animate proprietors all along the line.

The importance of the construction of the section from Carlton Place to this city can hardly be over-rated. It will restore to us a large portion of the trade of the Upper Ottawa, and give us increased facilities for connection with the west. And it will be no less beneficial to the municipalities through which it will pass, for the railway has always enhanced the value of the territory through which it runs.

Were the road extended eastward from this city to Vandreuil, it would furnish us with a much shorter route to Montreal, saving about half a mile of railway travel. The chief drawback to the progress of Ottawa has heretofore been its imperfect connections with the great centres of trade, both East and West, and the "Canada Central" is the line which, if built, would effectually remove it. This road, throughout the entire extent of its projected route, would be of signal benefit to this city, and the contiguous counties, and therefore we deem it not out of place to direct the attention of municipal bodies to the propriety of following the example of many of the western municipalities by encouraging it with such assistance as may be reasonably within their means.

Experience in Canada has already taught us the folly of going too far in the effort of assisting a needed public improvement; but it has at the same time shown that these aids from municipal bodies and the public exchequer have been of immense advantage in promoting the development of the country's resources. When Toronto has the moral courage to appeal to the Legislature for statutory power to exceed the established limit of municipal assessment to enable it to devote $400,000 to the encouragement of two new railway enterprises; when Hamilton, whose fingers have been so often and so badly scalped by the assistance it formerly gave to abortive undertakings, has yet $125,000 to spare for the construction of the Wellington, Grey and Bruce Railway; when township after township in the Counties of Wellington and Grey, with but from three to six or eight thousand inhabitants, and the stumps scarcely yet rotted out of their oldest clearances, are not afraid to appropriate sums ranging from twenty to fifty thousand dollars—and that as a bonus, or free gift—to railway companies that will bring a line through or near them; surely the older municipalities in this neighbourhood should at least be willing, for undoubtedly they are able, to do something towards forwarding the construction of the Canada Central.

We cannot say precisely what may be the actual prospects for the early completion of the road; but we can say without risk of error that that prospect would be immensely brightened—would in fact be rendered certain—were the municipalities along the line to offer the most moderate encouragement in the shape of a subscription for stock. In the West they give a bonus, out and out, believing that in a few years the cheapening in the freight of produce will more than repay the tax, and that forever after a permanent value will be added to each cultivable acre of land in the neighbourhood, which, according to its productiveness, can be calculated with arithmetical precision. In this part of the country there is not the same enthusiasm for the construction of railways as in the West. Nevertheless, were the question fully and candidly presented before the ratepayers of each municipality, the saving in the transfer of produce to market, and other benefits, which have an exact money value, and can readily be determined, it cannot be supposed that they would refuse to tax themselves for a few years, say to the extent of half the actual benefit which the railway would confer upon them.

The preliminary survey, to which we have alluded in the beginning of these remarks, is undertaken mainly, we presume, with the object of securing a proximate estimate of the cost of this part of the road, rather than with the definite intention of placing it under contract at this time. But should a spirit of enterprise be infused into the municipalities; should they, or even a considerable number of them, give some sign of faith in the importance of the work; should they show their appreciation of its value to them, and their reasonable confidence in its being a sound commercial enterprise, by subscribing such an amount of stock in it as would not be overburdensome on the ratepayers, but yet a substantial guarantee to capitalists that they were in earnest, we have every confidence that the construction of the whole line would be at once pushed forward with energy; and that on completion, it would prove one of the most profitable railway investments in the country.

The following is an extract from a pastoral letter of Dr. Cox, Protestant Bishop of New York: "When I see the tawdry fashion, the costly vulgarity and the wicked extravagance of the times, I feel that the spirit of America is a woman stranger to the first laws of refinement, simplicity in manners and attire. When I see that thousands of American women read the most shameful novels and the most degrading newspapers; frequent the vilest dramatic entertainments and jolts in dances too shocking to be named among Christians; too that the Chivalry of the world is dead, and that civilised heathenism is returning to the fields we have wrested from the Indians. When I read daily, of the most ungodly vices, and of crimes against social purity and against human life itself, which are only to be mentioned more particularly, for that too many of our countrymen are weak in God in the world, and that moral reforms are necessary in the system of education on which the young men of America are dependent for their training."

Last month of the cheap sale at the skirt factory. Skirts at half-price.

FROM RED RIVER.

We hope the Ontario Government will do no time in satisfying itself of the necessity of immediately applying the conditional appropriation to aid the destitute people of the Red River country. From an extract published elsewhere, it will be seen that Mr. CHARLES MAIN, who is on the spot, and has therefore a good opportunity of forming a correct judgment, estimates that forty thousand pounds will be required to carry the sufferers through to the next harvest; and we do not believe that more than a fourth of that sum, including the money set apart by the Canadian Government, for road building, has yet been provided.

The Hamilton papers publish an appeal from the "Red River Co-operative Relief Committee," bearing date the 6th of last month, addressed to JAMES TURNER, Esq., the Treasurer of the Hamilton Fund. This "appeal" we trust will satisfy the Toronto Cabinet that the appropriation made should be applied at once, and, perhaps, induce it to recommend to the Assembly the property of doubling the grant. We judge that the people of Hamilton, who have already done so much, are again to make an effort to increase their already liberal subscription. Whether another movement would be successful here we do not pretend to say; but we may suggest that neither Montreal nor Toronto have yet distinguished themselves, in proportion to their abundance, in this cause, and we think they ought to do so before less wealthy, but in this instance more liberal, communities are called upon a second time. See the "Appeal," which we publish to give our readers reliable statement of the true position of the destitute portion of the Red River community:

JAS. TURNER, Esq., Treasurer R.R. Relief Com., Hamilton.

The Red River Executive Co-operative Relief Committee, composed of the gentlemen named as the St. Paul and Canadian Committees, has received from Mr. Charles Main, having received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in the several districts throughout the settlement, find that the cases of actual destitution are far more numerous than was expected. There are over six hundred families of Indians in the neighbourhood of St. Paul and the Canadian Committee, who have received the reports of the Sub-Committees appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of destitution in