

down for quick time. In grand divisions, the officer commanding the Battalion will give the order for the officers to return to their companies.

NEW ADVERTISEMENT. Water's Quinine Wine—James Buchanan. List of Unclaimed Letters—G. F. Baker.

Consent of the Ottawa Philharmonic Society. American Invoices—R. S. M. Bouchette.

The Ottawa Times. Office: 21, Sparks Street. MONDAY, MARCH 1, 1899.

For Ottawa Markets see Fourth Page.

The train which left the city on Saturday evening made but very little progress, having only reached Gloucester yesterday.

Mr. Dawson was understood, at Kempsville on his way to the capital yesterday morning.

We are still in doubt "snowed up" at the capital. No efforts—no trains—these deprivations are becoming anomalous.

It is really to be that we are to enjoy (O) the serene feet of snow predicted by the Indians? "We pause for a reply—and the snow."

The letter of "Common Sense," copied from a recent number of the Spectator, and published elsewhere, is worthy perusal.

Our readers may remember that about two weeks ago the telegraphic despatches from Washington brought the news that the sub-committee of the Committee of Ways and Means had reported in favour of a renewal of reciprocity between the United States and Canada.

There is a reasonable prospect that negotiations will be speedily renewed, and we trust that they may lead to a successful result.

We were sorry to find in Saturday's Citizen a shameless and unblushing display of journalistic blackguardism.

The pretence on which this attack was based was that Father Dawson had not given Mr. Henry Jones Morgan due credit for the material of his lecture.

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

The father silent sits; yet oft he stals. A fearful look at the long narrow list. That men are there to occupy. The men still their north, lest it may break.

Now saying Heaven for blessings on the head of those that journey far over land and sea. And in preparation to earthy erring one. To "set up them that fall," but so wide and

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

To the Editor of the Ottawa Citizen. Sir: In a communication contained in your paper of Saturday last, there occur some very gross misstatements, which require to be corrected.

Now saying Heaven for blessings on the head of those that journey far over land and sea. And in preparation to earthy erring one. To "set up them that fall," but so wide and

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

It is not surprising that the "Citizen" should have been so "wounded" by mentioning his name in this "connection."

The WEATHER.—Though appearances indicated on Saturday another fall of snow, yesterday was clear and sunny, and the sky was but slightly threatening.

Mr. Grant Symonds, Mr. Meredith, and Mr. C. J. Higgins. Songs and music.

WELLESLEY MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this great Christian enterprise will be held this evening, and we understand it is expected to be a highly interesting character.

THE TRAINS.—A train left Prescott on Saturday morning for Ottawa, and notwithstanding all their exertions had reached no further than the bridge at the Falls.

THE SEATING HOURS.—On Saturday afternoon the party of motion on snow was largely indulged in at the skating rink, which accompanied the pleasure skating.

THE STREETS.—The recent storms have caused snow embankments along the sidewalks, and in the streets there are from two to three feet of packed snow.

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.—This concert, as will be seen by announcement in our advertisement, is to come off on Thursday evening next, in Her Majesty's Theatre.

A REMOVAL.—A man, who resides about six miles from the city, but whose loss of way of talking makes it unsafe to rely upon his word.

A CORRESPONDENT OF THE INDO-EUROPEAN Correspondence says: "A very serious accident occurred in French, and which, perhaps unheard of since the establishment of railways."

UNUSUAL DEPTH OF SNOW.—The two great snow storms of the present month have covered the earth with a very unusual depth of snow.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

THE KENTWATY DROWNED.—A miner had arrived at Portland from Ferry Creek, bringing with him a large quantity of gold.

BY APPOINTMENT TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL. WATER'S QUININE WINE. The most Delightful and Invigorating Tonic Known to Science.

The Wine, which is the Supreme of Quinine Preparations, is especially prepared for the purpose of restoring the system, and is a valuable assistant to digestion.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.

ADAMS LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the City of Ottawa, 10th March.