The Inquest on Whitaker's Body--Chaloner Committed for Trial.

ney from Montreal.

Special to THE TIMES. Quesse, March 13. The coroner's inquiry into the death of Whitaker terminated at about noon to-day. The evidence elicited was only in relation to the actual firing of the fatal shot, The coroner would not allow Chaloner enter on his defence.

The coroner addressed the jary as follows: GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY,—The whole of the acts are now before you, and It is your duty to judge the case from the evidence taken before you, and from nothing else; you must therefore cast aside any sympathy which you u ay have for the deceased; or for the prisoner, that it may not bias your minds and influence your verdict. You must defer your knowledge of this sad case to the facts which have been proven to you under oath. Of the cause of the deceased's death, and the person killing him, there can be no doubt in your minds. It is my duty to tell you that no provocation, however justifiable, can render homicide ustifiable, or even excusable. The least that it can amount to in contemplation of law is " husband find another man in the act of of the international revenue in that city.

wintery with his wife, and in a transport of it is a well known fact that sometimes when to the rights of his race. petit jury sometimes is acquitted, although | ment to the new secretary. the law is cited against him. I tell you this in order that if cases of the above kind have come to gation of the solemn oaths you have taken to ship John Bright, of New York. udge of this case from the evidence taken before you. You must bear in mind that this investigation is a preliminary one, and the prisoner has not here been called upon to make his defence. If a verdict is found sgainst him he must plead to it before a petit jury, and at his trial he will have the full benefit of the assistance of an able counsel and the full latitude of a defence ensured to him by English law. You have in this case mother of Henry Ward Beecher, died in direct evidence, establishing the lying in wait | Brooklyn this morning, aged 80. for, and killing of, the deceased, and in my opinion a moment of serious reflection will convince you all that by the oaths you have taken, and the strong evidence laid before you only one course is left open, and that is to find if the prisoner feloniously, willfully, and ot his malice aforethought, took the life of Whitaker. At two o'clock the jury returned with the following verdict: "That Frederick Charles Whitaker came to his death on the 10th of 417. March, inst., from a pistol shot wound on the left temple, from the hand of John Henry

The jury were then discharged, and Chaloner committed to stand his trial at the Queen's Bench in October. Whitaker was buried with military honour this afternoon.

Discussion in the House of Commons on the Postal Contract. LONDON, March 12 .- In the House of Commons last evening Mr. Seely moved a committee on mail contracts to the United States. The Marquis of Hartington, Postmaster-General, said the contract was completed by the late Government, and to break it would be a breach of faith. He added that the present service was satisfactory. Mr. Lowe attacked and Mr. Hunt supported the contract. The House divided and the motion was adopted by the following vote for a committee: 115

From Washington. New York, March 13 .- The Times' special says among the nominations for prominent foreign missions that have been virtually decided upon are the following : Major-General Daniel E. Sickles, Minister to Mexico; Horace Rublee, of Wisconsin, Minister to Switzerland; Gen. Polmer, of New York, Minister to Sweden and Norway. Information has been received that Hamilton Fish accepts the office of Secretary of State. Among important sutjects on which action will be taken by the Senate before its final adjournment is the treaty in reference to the Alabama claims, which is now on the table of that body. President Grant has already indicated his views on this question, and the treaty will of course be summarily rejected. Mr. Reverdy Johnson's recall is but a more question of time, and the new Minister to England will be authorized to present the views of the present administration to the British Government, in reference to the basis on which the
