LADY Young and Lady ALICE HAVELOCK, accompanied by Mr. TURVILLE, visited the Parliament Houses yesterday afternoon.

In the House of Commons yesterday, a debate took place on the reception of the Jan. 1. By interest petition for the construction of the Ottawa Ship Canal. The petition was received. The Hon. Mr. Rose took several preliminary stages towards going into Committee of Supply, and the House adjourned shortly after four o'clock. In the Senate the Hon. Mr. CAMPBELL, in reply to the Hon. Mr. LETELLIER DE ST Just, gave explanations concerning the filling up of the Cabinet.

THERE is gratifying news from Hants. According to general anticipation, the Hon. Joseph Hows was elected yesterday by a large majority. We have not the complete returns nor the figures up to the close of th poll; but the returns received place his success beyond all risk of doubt. This news will be bailed with great satisfaction in this part of the Dominion, not only for the sake Mr. Howe himself, who enjoys so largely the esteem of all classes and parties here. The

Since the above was in type we learned from a despatch that the Hon. Howz has been elected by a majority of more rejoicing in Halifax over the glorious news. The satisfaction here, though not so demonstrative, has been equally sincere.

BILLIARDS .- Mr. Joseph Dion, who is still n town, exhibited some of his fancy points last night at Mr. Bourget's Billiard Saloon Russell House. Most of the amateurs of the city were present to observe and study his cue. They had never seen any such play before, and were loud in applauding his magnificent shots. He did as he pleased with the balls, and worked out problems of the billiard-table which astonished the amateurs of the capital. This evening Mr. Dion will play any four of the best amateur billiardists of this city a thousand points up.
We understand also that he has promised to be present to open Mr. Bourget's new rooms.

We have not learned 25 and 50 cents per bottle. that any serious breakage has yet occurred on the Ottawa, but on the south branch of the Ridean, in the vicinity of Kemptville, we learn from an eye witness, that yesterday three of the bridges were carried away by the flood, as alse Perkins' dam; and Barnes' tannery, a large frame building which was lifted from its foundations and completely knocked to pieces against the piers of an adjoining bridge. Other casuaties of a like nature we believe have occurred to-day, but we are not in possession of the particulars. Our informant states that at the time of his visit to the village, yesterday, all the available men of the neighbourhood were acquainted with the Paper, Paint, Oil, Glue and engaged in trying to save the other bridges, on that branch of the Rideau, which it was feared would also be swept away should the waters continues to rise.
