PRICE-3 CENTS. THE RINDERPEST AGAIN.

> A correspondent writes from Germany : -" The rinderpest has broken out in some neighbourhoods of the districts of Zloscow, in Galicia. Although the infected district is a hundred and fifty miles from the Prussian border, measures have been taken by Prussia to prevent the importation of the disease, as the Zloscow district is traversed by a line of railroad which transports an immense number of cattle from other districts of Galicia and from Prussia. " The Zeitschrift fur Preussen, in speaking on the subject, says the disease, in its devastation, is traced back fourteen hundred years; it was the regular companion of great armies in their campaigns, and went with them in all countries. In the years 1809-17 Europe is estimated to have lost no less than 1,500,000 head of cattle by it. In the middle of the last century it entered England; in the third year of the pestilence 20,000 head were killed; In the fourth year a still greater number. In the year 1717 the English countries of Nottingham. Leicester and Cheshire lost upwards of 70,000 animals, In the thirty years during which time the pestileuce raged in Europe, upwards of 3,000,000,000 animals must have fallen. In 1770 England had 375,000 animals destroyed, and lost the greater part of her cattle. The Russian war in this century introduced the pestilence with the army tions of this pest are well known. Austria is seldom free from it, and it is idle to hope that the pestilence will disappear from her soil while Russia is. onstantly exporting diseased cattle
